Administration Probes New Middle East Approach

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, probing for a break in the Mideast crisis, is considering a direct new approach to Egypt parallel with renewed Soviet-U.S. talks on developing an Arab-Israeli peace formula.

Such a step is being considered as part of a U.S. program which is expected to provide a pledge to Israel of additional jet planes to offset recently increased Soviet military help to Egypt.

New Opportunities Eyed

Some highly placed officials are represented as hopeful the intensity of the present Middle East crisis may open up new opportunities for peace negotiations.

Others, remembering the failure of prolonged U.S.-Soviet talks last year, are skeptical. President Nixon has yet to make a final decision on exactly what the diplomatic-military package will contain. His conclusions, first expected this week, may now not be completed until next week.

In order to avoid the maximum publicity of a White House announcement, they probably will be disclosed by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Statement Of Principles

Up to now the administration appeared to be concentrating its efforts on searching with the Soviets for the statement of principles which would enable the Israeli and Arab governments, particularly Egypt, to eventually negotiate a settlement.

Officials now rule out exclusive reliance on the Soviets as a U.S.-Egypt go-between. Either publicly or through diplomatic channels, or both, the probability is said to be high that Nixon will probe recent indications that Egyptian President Nasser is interested in exploring the possibilities of peace — although U.S. officials remain pessimistic in most cases.

Nasser Move Noted

One Nasser move came in a May Day speech in which he appealed directly to President Nixon not to provide more military aid to Israel. He added that "in spite of all that has happened we have not closed the door to negotiations."

It is now said in official quarters that Nasser's May Day speech deserves and will receive a reply from President Nixon.

But the reply is being formulated here in the light of a more recent Nasser comment recorded in Cairo about a month ago and broadcast by National Educational Television stations last weekend on the program "Advocates."

Withdrawal Asked

Nasser said in the broadcast he would restore a cease-fire on the Arab side that could last for six months if Israel declared its intention to withdraw to its pre-June, 1967, boundaries.

Nasser also spoke of a package settlement understood by American officials as a set of peace terms. The package includes Arab recognition of Israel's existence and territory. Arab recognition would be concluded before Israel actually withdrew from the territory conquered in the six-day war three years ago.

In the past Nasser has called for total Israel withdrawal as a pre-condition for negotiations. There also have been endless difficulties from Arab rejection of Israel's demand for direct negotiations.

Hardening Of Arteries Fatal To Young Girl

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Joseph Rhodes Jr., a 22-year-old member of President Nixon's Commission on Campus Unrest, said Tuesday he has no intention of resigning despite Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's statement that he should.

"I must presume the President does not want a whitewash," said Rhodes, a junior fellow at Harvard University.

"I was asked by the President to serve on this commission," Rhodes said. "I have no intention of resigning, I will serve unless asked otherwise by the President."

The vice president said, "My criticisms are directed entirely to the action of an appointee subsequent to this appointee's actions in which the appointee could in no way have known of prior to the appointment."

Agnew went on: "Rhodes is also quoted as saying Gov. Ronald Reagan was bent on killing people for his own political gain."

In a reference to the President's remark about some campus dissidents, Rhodes allegedly made the following observation:

"One of the things I want to try to figure out is who gave what orders to send police on campus and were they thinking about campus bums when they pulled the trigger. If the President's and vice president's statements are killing people, I want to know that."

Rhodes was further quoted in the Times as saying, "I'll do anything—even talk to the devil—if I can stop people from killing..."

Negro Defeats Newark Mayor

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Kenneth A. Gibson, a 38-year-old civil engineer, has been elected as the first Negro mayor of a major Northeastern city, defeating an incumbent accused of corruption in office.

A runoff election Tuesday gave Gibson victory by 54,892 votes to 43,339 for Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, 56, who held the office for eight years and ran for another term while standing trial on federal charges.

The fight against inflation is everybody's business," the President said.

He announced these actions to pull the reins tighter on inflation:

1. A National Commission on Productivity will be named with representatives from business, labor, government and the public. Its duty will be to find ways of increasing output per worker and bringing balance between cost and productivity to assure more stable prices.

2. Nixon directed the Council of Economic Advisors to prepare a periodic "inflation alert" to spotlight significant wage and price bulges and analyze their inflationary impact.

3. A Regulations and Purchasing Review Board is being set up, to review federal purchasing procedures to assure that they do not drive up costs and prices up, to review federal purchasing procedures to assure that they do not drive up costs and prices; and to review import policy to see whether supplies can be increased to meet rising consumer demand without loss of jobs at home.

Example Set

"This administration, by its spending restraint, has set the example in this past year; we believe we have now earned the credentials to call for similar restraint from business and labor to slow down inflation," Nixon said.

Nixon assured the nation that "a peacetime economy is clearly on the way." He promised:

"Our scheduled withdrawal of forces from Cambodia on June 30 will be kept."

Transition Intact

"Our scheduled transition from a wartime economy to a peacetime consumer economy will be kept as well."

"While our economy adapts to the reordering of our national priorities and resources, we are undergoing a second great change. We are trying to do something that has never been done before: to avoid a recession while we bring a major inflation to an end."

"Now is the time" Nixon said, "for business at every level to take price actions more consistent with a stable cost of living, and now is the time for labor to structure its wage demands to better achieve a new stability of costs."

Credit Control Eyed

Just before the President went on the air, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., released a letter from Nixon saying he will stand by credit control authority voted him by Congress

"if it appears to me that the nation's economic objectives would be served by so doing."

Patman is chairman of the House Banking Committee.

President Sets Up Inflation 'Barrier' Plan

Rejects Government Wage-Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today the erection of a three-way governmental barrier to spiraling inflation, while promising:

"I will not take this nation down the road of wage and price controls."

Nixon thus gave way to increasing pressure for a policy of voluntary restraint on wages and prices.

In a nationwide TV-radio broadcast in economic policy, he lectured business and labor on their responsibility to refrain from excessive price markups and wage increases.

"The fight against inflation is everybody's business," the President said.

He announced these actions to pull the reins tighter on inflation:

1. A National Commission on Productivity will be named with representatives from business, labor, government and the public. Its duty will be to find ways of increasing output per worker and bringing balance between cost and productivity to assure more stable prices.

Few Will Escape Draft Because Of Ruling, Tarr Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr says relatively few persons will be able to escape the draft because of the Supreme Court's new, less restrictive definition of conscientious objectors.

But if anyone can, it will be the young college graduate, especially if he studied a lot of philosophy and religion.

Although Tarr said in a Tuesday news conference the decision by the court, along with a separate but related ruling, would not "open the flood gates" for each man to write his own classification, a bit of uncertainty is shadowing the draft as a result.

In telling newsmen the decisions won't result in large numbers of C.O. exemptions, Tarr said, "It will be difficult for people to profess sincerity when there is no sincerity. It will be difficult to profess rigorous training and belief for someone who doesn't even take the trouble of looking up the footnotes."

But Tarr conceded, in questioning, college students are exactly the people most likely to quote the philosophers and look up the footnotes.

In the other case Monday, the Supreme Court also ruled that a draft board must reconsider the draft status of a man who offered pertinent new evidence supporting a claim for some other classification.

For instance, a man with a student or 1-A classification can offer proof—as did the subject of the second court decision—that he had since developed beliefs that make him a conscientious objector.

If his evidence appears at all serious, the local draft board must consider his claim.

Prime Minister Wilson Nearing Third Term Win

LONDON (AP) — James Harold Wilson, the youngest British prime minister of the 20th century, apparently stands on the threshold of a political achievement that eluded his predecessors—election to an unprecedented third straight term.

All public opinion polls indicate Wilson's Labor government will coast back into office in Thursday's general election of a new House of Commons. The Marplan poll, in the Times of London today, gave Labor an 8.7 per cent margin over the Conservatives and predicted a majority of up to 150 seats in the new House of Commons. But the Harris poll in the Daily Express cut Labor's lead to 2 per cent, from 7 per cent a week ago.

Cosmonauts Hit By Sight Trouble

MOSCOW (AP) — The two Soviet Cosmonauts in Soyuz 9 have been orbiting the earth for more than 15 days, and the Soviet Defense Ministry newspaper revealed today that the weightless flight markedly affected their eyesight and color perception during the trip.

It was discovered that the reliability of operative sight efficiency was sharply reduced already 24 hours after launch," reported Krasnaya Zvezda. "Scientists explain that the coordination of the eye movement muscles is reduced in the condition of weightlessness."

The paper added that the color or perception of cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitaly Sevastyanov also has been affected. Bright colors seem muted to them.

"This shows that certain changes take place in the color perception mechanism... but space medicine has yet to discover the reason," it said.

The two cosmonauts have been in orbit since June 1. They broke the U.S. space endurance record Monday, and Tass reported today that Soyuz 9 had completed 248 orbits by 6 a.m.

Lobbyist Admits Conspiracy Quilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Lobbyist Nathan Voloshen interrupted the start of his trial today to plead guilty to charges of conspiring to peddle his influence with the office of House Speaker John W. McCormack, and Tass reported today that Soyuz 9 had completed 248 orbits by 6 a.m.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., contended the House bill was unacceptable and urged the House to take up the package negotiated by the administration and postal unions in the wake of the nation's first mail strike last March.

"If you vote no on this," Udall said, "you're voting against AFL-CIO President George Meany, the AFL-CIO unions and the President of the United States and saying 'No, you shouldn't have a vote on your package.'"

A key difference in the committee bill would make the pay boost for mailmen retroactive to April 18, while the administration package called for the raises to be effective upon passage. Also, the committee version provides for easier congressional votes of future postal rate increases.

Supply Route Widened

Only a month ago both Communist and Western sources believed Hanoi's Cambodian offensive was launched to widen its supply routes toward South Vietnam and to set up new base camps well removed from the Cambodian border area entered by American and South Vietnamese troops last month.

The Communist scenario, as pieced together from various sources, apparently is supposed to go something like this:

Elements of five North Vietnamese division now within fairly easy striking distance of Phnom Penh will begin closing in on the capital. One of the first major attacks will be against Cambodia's small air force, based almost exclusively at Phnom Penh. This will throw the burden of the air war on South Vietnam, or possibly the United States.

Part of Phnom Penh would be taken in an offensive. The hope seemingly is that South Vietnamese aircraft would bomb occupied parts of the city.

Hardening Of Arteries Fatal To Young Girl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A team of autopsy surgeons has reported that a 14-year-old girl died of hardening of the arteries, a disease of old age.

Dr. Henry Turkel, San Francisco County coroner, said the condition of the girl's coronary arteries resembled that of women in their 70s and 80s.

The girl, Florencia Gomez, a junior high school honor student, was a Filipino who came here a year ago from Manila with her father and two teenage sisters.

She collapsed Monday at the San Francisco General Hospital, where her father had sent her to seek treatment for what was believed to be a cold.

Turkel said there was evidence the girl recently suffered an undetected heart attack.

Dr. Frederick Brunn, the hospital's chief resident pediatrician, commented: "In fact, she probably went through her brief life having heart attacks and passing them off as minor pains."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A postal reform-pay boost package backed by President Nixon and the postal unions has been tentatively rejected by the House in favor of its own more limited version.

The House Tuesday refused on a 219-139 vote to substitute the reform-pay package negotiated by the Nixon administration and most postal unions for one forged by the House Post Office Committee.

But the House bill also faces attempts at heavy revision and there is cloakroom talk of passing an 8 per cent pay raise for mailmen without postal reform at the risk of a presidential veto.

Housing Group Calls Meeting

The first meeting of the Board of Directors of ACTION Nonprofit Housing Corp. will be Thursday, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the All Purpose Room of St. Michael's Parish, Marquette, according to Rev. Louis C. Cappo, president.

ACTION was chartered by the State Feb. 10, 1970, and is sponsored by the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan; Marquette District of the United Methodist Church; Beth Shalom Temple; Marquette Diocese of the Catholic Church; Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Synod; Lutheran Church of America; and the Mackinac Presbytery, United Presbyterian Church. Directors named come from all parts of the Upper Peninsula.

The purpose of the corporation is to improve the quality and increase the supply of housing for low to middle income families by home ownership through programs of the Federal Housing Administration, Farmers Home Administration and the Michigan State Housing Development Authority. "ACTION" is an acronym for "Area Cooperation To Improve Our Neighborhoods."

Officers of the corporation are Father Louis C. Cappo, Escanaba, president; Ven. Carlson Gerda, Munising vice-president; William J. James, a Sault Ste. Marie attorney, secretary; and David E. Selin, Iskimping businessman, treasurer; Richard R. Dodge, formerly UPCAP housing specialist, is executive director, with offices in Escanaba.

Since incorporation, the affairs of the corporation have been conducted by an executive committee comprised of the officers and the following who represent the sponsoring groups: Monsignor Arnold L. Casanova, Mrs. Michael F. Defant, Rev. Ralph W. Janka, Rev. Raymond R. Lamb, and Rev. Leslie E. Niemi, Munising.

Formation of the corporation was a project of the Committee for Better Housing of the Alger-Marquette Community Action Board, of which Mrs. Defant was chairman, and was formed with the cooperation of the directors of the six community action agencies and the clergymen of the Upper Peninsula.

Dean Chambers, a retired Sears executive, and now a VISTA with AMCAP, was also instrumental in the formation of ACTION and now plays a vital role in its operation.

Ice Arena Fund Above $17,000

Ted B. Graim, president of the Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp., announces that pledges secured during last winter's Telethon have resulted in donations being received in excess of $17,000. These funds are currently held in a trust account and have been invested so as to earn interest until such time as they are needed.

"The Telethon was an outstanding example of the interest and endorsement of this project by the members of the entire community. There are still a number of pledges outstanding and we would appreciate it very much if checks could be sent in so that pledges are fulfilled," said Graim.

"We are approaching this project on a very wide range basis so as to provide the Delta County area with the finest sports complex facility in this part of the country," said Graim.

"We have asked for the support of the people and we have received it. All of us are proud of our community and are pleased that we are involved in this project." Graim emphasized that those who have pledged funds, fulfill the pledges by sending in their checks promptly.

Pledges still outstanding can be mailed to Arena, Box 50, Escanaba.

At present, a professional feasibility study is underway to determine whether the corporation is correct in its thinking that the people of the county and of neighboring cities would

German Freed By Kidnappers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The West German ambassador to Brazil was released unharmed Tuesday night, had a quick snack of orange juice and eggs and told newsmen he would tell them later about his five-day ordeal at the mercy of political kidnappers.

Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben was freed on a Rio de Janeiro street nearly 24 hours after the arrival in Algiers of 40 political prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the kidnappers. The diplomat was given a ride home by a young lawyer who recognized him.

"Yes, I'm all right," the 61-year-old diplomat said as he got out of the car in front of his residence. He looked tired and worn, and his tan suit was wrinkled and creased, but he seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

The ambassador appeared on the balcony of the embassy residence and read a brief statement saying he was "very grateful to all who stood by me." He expressed grief over the slaying of the security agent in the kidnapping.

CLASSIFIED ADS COST LITTLE BUT DO A BIG JOB

The body of Belcher was removed to the Messier-Broulline funeral home at Manistique where an autopsy was performed by a local pathologist Tuesday night. Results were inconclusive, but further tests were scheduled at the state laboratory in Lansing.

Dr. Otto Hult of Gladstone, medical examiner called to the scene said that he is suggesting to authorities that an autopsy be held for Mrs. Weingartner to assist in establishing the cause of death.

He said he is of the opinion that both deaths were the result of heart attacks.

"Mr. Belcher very probably went outside the cabin, and then suffered a coronary thrombosis," Dr. Hult suggested. "When he did not return, Mrs. Weingartner looked for him, found his body and then returned to the cabin where she also collapsed with a heart attack."

Authorities said they apparently had been dead for several days.

Nurses' Group Holds Meeting

The Dells Supper Club was the setting last Thursday evening for the June meeting and installation officers of the Delta District Licensed Practical Nurses Association.

New officers are Mary Goden, president; Dorothy Lambert, first vice-president; Patricia Fuller, second vice-president; Barbara Longhurst, secretary; and Patricia Olson, treasurer.

A candle light ceremony was held and corsages were presented to the new officers. Theresa Stenberg, the outgoing president, was the installation officer.

House Goes Along On Budget Cut

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House voted today to join the Senate in cutting $15.5 million from Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.74 billion budget for the coming fiscal year.

The cuts are contained in a $37.7 million capital outlay appropriation bill, passed by the House today on a 64-23 vote.

Milliken had recommended $33.3 million in various construction projects, but a joint Legislative Capital Outlay Committee recommended the state forego most new building programs this year.

An additional $2.5 million to continue preliminary work on the new Capitol complex in Lansing was not excised, although opponents of the new Capitol tried several times to strip it from the bill during House debate.

Funds Granted

LANSING (AP) — The U.S. Labor Department has granted funds to two Western Michigan communities for classroom training of the jobless or unemployed.

A 20-week course for 20 clerk-typists will be conducted at Grand Rapids Central High under a grant of $31,810.

Lake Michigan College, Benton Harbor, will train 15 production machine operators in an 18-week course at a cost of $29,562.

Ice Arena Fund Above $17,000

Ted B. Graim, president of the Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp., announces that pledges secured during last winter's Telethon have resulted in donations being received in excess of $17,000. These funds are currently held in a trust account and have been invested so as to earn interest until such time as they are needed.

"The Telethon was an outstanding example of the interest and endorsement of this project by the members of the entire community. There are still a number of pledges outstanding and we would appreciate it very much if checks could be sent in so that pledges are fulfilled," said Graim.

Pledges still outstanding can be mailed to Arena, Box 50, Escanaba.

At present, a professional feasibility study is underway to determine whether the corporation is correct in its thinking that the people of the county and of neighboring cities would support a sports complex which would encompass not only an ice arena but also a swimming pool and a convention center.

The board members of the arena corporation feel the initial kickoff to the campaign was so enthusiastic that its original plans for an arena alone could be expanded into a much larger facility, it was announced.

"We are approaching this project on a very wide range basis so as to provide the Delta County area with the finest sports complex facility in this part of the country," said Graim.

"We have asked for the support of the people and we have received it. All of us are proud of our community and are pleased that we are involved in this project." Graim emphasized that those who have pledged funds, fulfill the pledges by sending in their checks promptly.

THIS LOS ANGELES KING'S hockey stick, auctioned for $100 as part of the fund-raising project to provide the community with an ice arena, is presented by Escanaba Mayor Ron DeVos to Jeff Ferrari of 209 N. 13th St. Ferrari, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrari, received the stick for his high bid of $100. German Freed By Kidnappers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The West German ambassador to Brazil was released unharmed Tuesday night, had a quick snack of orange juice and eggs and told newsmen he would tell them later about his five-day ordeal at the mercy of political kidnappers.

Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben was freed on a Rio de Janeiro street nearly 24 hours after the arrival in Algiers of 40 political prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the kidnappers. The diplomat was given a ride home by a young lawyer who recognized him.

"Yes, I'm all right," the 61-year-old diplomat said as he got out of the car in front of his residence. He looked tired and worn, and his tan suit was wrinkled and creased, but he seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

The ambassador appeared on the balcony of the embassy residence and read a brief statement saying he was "very grateful to all who stood by me." He expressed grief over the slaying of the security agent in the kidnapping.

House Goes Along On Budget Cut

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House voted today to join the Senate in cutting $15.5 million from Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.74 billion budget for the coming fiscal year.

The cuts are contained in a $37.7 million capital outlay appropriation bill, passed by the House today on a 64-23 vote.

Milliken had recommended $53.3 million in various construction projects, but a joint Legislative Capital Outlay Committee recommended the state forego most new building programs this year.

An additional $2.5 million to continue preliminary work on the new Capitol complex in Lansing was not excised, although opponents of the new Capitol tried several times to strip it from the bill during House debate.

The request was made in a letter to Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the subcommittee.

"To refuse to increase the VA budget to serve the added cost of treating persons wounded in Vietnam is to ask our wounded to carry the brunt of two wars—the one in Southeast Asia and the one against inflation," he said.

"The proposed budget of $1.7 billion, while highest in history, hardly meets the added cost of health care caused by inflation alone," Hart said.

Draft Ruling

The United States Supreme Court, which through its decisions has exercised perhaps as much influence on the American public as the Legislative or Executive branches of government, handed down another decision with far-reaching implications this week.

The court ruled by a 5-3 majority that a person can claim exemption to the draft if he holds deep moral or ethical views against war without their being based on any conventional "religious" belief. The case was that of Elliott A. Welsh Jr., who refused to submit to induction and based his conscientious objector status solely on his personal ethical and moral beliefs. He was specific in refusing that his opposition stemmed from "religious training and belief."

Justice Hugo L. Black wrote the majority opinion and said:

"If an individual deeply and sincerely holds beliefs which are purely ethical and moral in source and content, but which nevertheless impose upon him a duty of conscience to refrain from participating in any war at any time, those beliefs certainly occupy in the life of that individual a place parallel with that filled by . . . God in traditionally religious persons. Because his beliefs function as a religion in his life, such an individual is as much entitled to a religious conscientious objector exemption as is someone who derives his conscientious opposition to war from traditional religious conviction."

Expanding the religious qualifications of conscientious objector exemption to cover "ethical and moral" beliefs is going to cause problems for more than 4,000 local draft boards throughout the nation who have to sort out, according to the law and the court ruling, the people with deep feelings and the others with only a deep desire to avoid military service.

In view of other court decisions interpreting the separation of church and state (banning of prayer in schools, for one) provisions of the Constitution, however, the ruling Monday is consistent, although only Justice John M. Harlan may have hit on the basic reason. Justice Harlan said the whole attempt of Congress to grant exemptions on religious grounds runs contrary to the 1st Amendment to the Constitution. He said the separation of church and state required under the Amendment forbids Congress from making any attempt to single out religious registrants for exemptions. The effort, he said, "not only accords a preference to the 'religious' but disadvantages adherents of religions that do not worship a Supreme Being." Under the amendment, Harlan wrote, Congress must be neutral in matters of religion.

Harlan's reasoning runs against what has been the accepted practice in the United States, but it makes sense. If Congress shall make no law abridging religious freedom, then it should likewise grant no special exemptions for practice of certain religions.

Tuesday, Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr spelled out four guidelines which he said would be communicated to local draft boards to assist them in interpreting the Supreme Court decisions:

- The man's belief must be sincere;
- The man must be opposed to war in all forms. The decision does not open the door to exemption to a particular war;

- It must be something more than a personal moral code. He needs to have taken into account the thoughts of other wise men; he needs to have consulted more system of belief;

- His belief needs to be the result of some rigorous kind of training.

The "guidelines" of Tarr don't appear to make any significant changes in the present policies, although "rigorous" may carry a different sense than religious. That language, in fact, may be the grounds for the next test of the draft law, which seems to be under the strongest threat. Unless it is changed, in fact, someday someone is likely to question taking only men, not women.

The volunteer Army proposals may have some problems, but it might be sound thinking to get it off the ground before the entire concept of the draft is ruled unconstitutional, leaving the country without an Army at all.

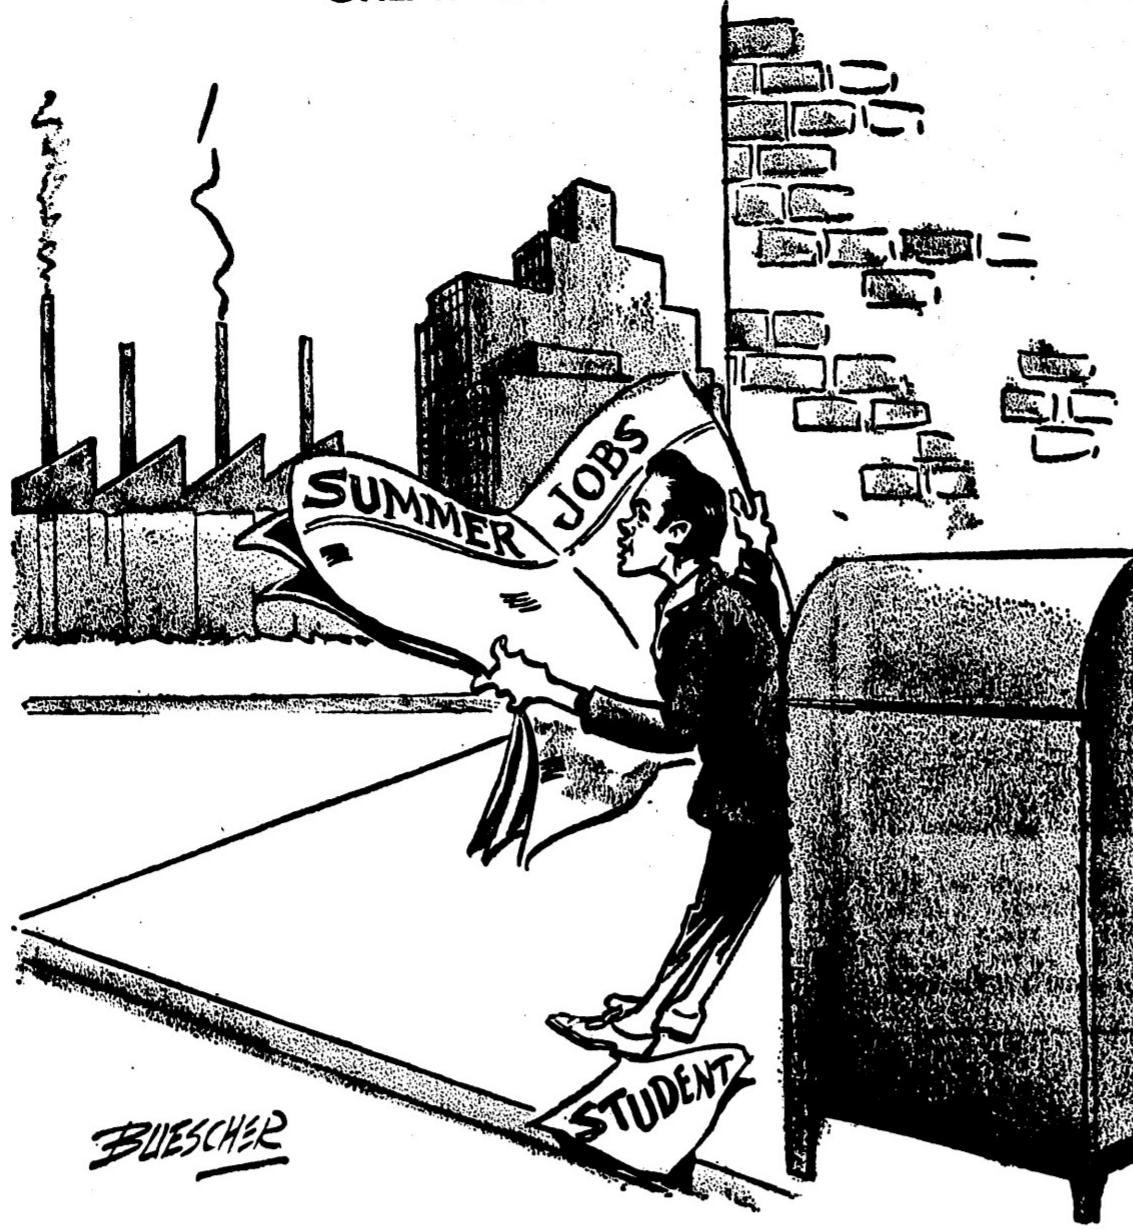

Peninsula Potpourri

Gus Hanson, former Wakefield resident, was honored at a testimonial dinner in downtown Ferndale, where he is retiring after 35 years of serving as coach and athletic director. Hanson, who was born in Sweden, came to the Upper Peninsula at an early age. He earned 12 letters in sports at Wakefield High School and all-state basketball acclaim in 1925. He graduated from Western Michigan University and received his master's degree at the University of Michigan. He started coaching in Ferndale in 1936.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kolbus, owners of Munising Falls, received notice that the National Park Service has condemned that recreation area for purchase by the government. The falls area, which includes 20 acres of land on the east side of the city, is located in the inner zone of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. It is one of the Upper Peninsula's top tourist attraction. Along with collecting a fee from sightseers who visit the falls, Mr. and Mrs. Kolbus operate a concession stand at the entrance to the area.

Four newcomers were elected to the board of education in the Iron Mountain and Breitung Township - Kingsford school districts. Named to seats on the Iron Mountain board were William Verrette and Glenn C. Neff. Gaining spots on the Breitung Township - Kingsford school board were Mrs. Gloria Boyce and Harry J. Farley. Iron Mountain school electors also gave overwhelming support to renewal of 15.6 mills for operational expenses for five years. The current 15.6 mills expires this year.

New Rules Are Applied To Old Game In Nation

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The kids used to play a game of identification called "animal, vegetable or mineral." All three substances, or resources, are necessary to human life.

However, in the development of the United States the "mineral" category — and what comes out of it in our factories — has always had first place.

Our ecologists are new changing the rating. Not swiftly, not overwhelmingly. But they are getting more and more of a public.

For instance, in Idaho, a proposed open pit molybdenum mining development in the White Clouds mountain region north of Sun Valley would threaten, through its distribution of tailings wastes, some of the finest salmon spawning grounds in the Columbia River system.

The ecologists are claiming that we already have plenty of molybdenum, which is used to harden steel. But the supply of salmon is threatened from a hundred different directions as we build more and more dams in the rivers. So what will you take in the resource-identification game: animal (salmon) or mineral (molybdenum)?

The salmon have a chance of winning.

The identification game is taking a new turn in South Carolina, where the Badische Anilin and Soda-Fabrik company (BASF) of West Germany proposes to build a $200-million dye and plastic plant on the Colleton River near Beaufort. Since BASF would use naphtha, an oil derivative, as a base for its production, it qualifies, roughly speaking, as a "mineral" user. (For the purists, let me say that I am quite aware that oil, in prehistoric ages, was once vegetable matter.)

The conservationists in South Carolina object that pollution from the BASF plant would kill the shrimp and oyster industries in the estuaries of the Port Royal Sound area. So which will you take in the resource-identification game in South Carolina: mineral (oil and its plastic derivatives) or animal (shrimp and oysters)?

The complication, in South Carolina, is that the blacks of Beaufort County are miserably poor and could use the jobs that a chemical industry would provide.

Save for a few blacks who own a shrimp-catching cooperative, the poor citizens around Beaufort are overwhelmingly in favor of the BASF plant. So is South Carolina's Governor Robert McNair. And, if it comes down to jobs, the oyster and shrimp fishermen — and the proprietors of the beautiful recreational and retirement developments on Hilton Head Island — haven't a chance.

One influential black has said, "If I got to put the oyster beds up against people, the oyster beds have got to go."

However, in a clever move, the Hilton Head real estate people, the shrimp and oyster fishermen, and the embattled conservationists of the Audubon Society, the Sierra Club and the Friends of the Earth, are now firing back with their oil-making proposition.

They claim that the chemical industry must inevitably pollute the waters despite all the promises that liquid wastes will be purified and "recycled." But, recognizing that jobs of some kind are needed in Beaufort

County, they suggest that an industrial park be set up on the BASF-owned site on the Colleton River.

They are willing to buy the site for the price that BASF paid for it, with a proviso that they will resell it to the state in three years if they haven't created the same number of jobs that BASF has figured on creating in a dye and plastics complex.

The "clean" industries which the Hilton Head proprietors and the conservationists have in mind include outboard motor manufacturing, the making of baseball, football, tennis and golf equipment, fishing tackle manufacture, and the construction of mobile living units, bicycles and terrain vehicles.

Whether this will settle the argument in South Carolina remains to be seen. But the ecologists are now getting wily: they have begun to recognize that industrial jobs of some type are necessary to the "food chain" of poor people.

With common sense on their side they may begin to win important victories.

Movie Star Prefers Complete Privacy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have a theory that if anything is much fun it doesn't do you much good," said Charlton Heston.

The 6-foot-2 actor, conscientious in everything he does, at 45 still methodically runs two miles a day to keep in perfect physical condition.

"I don't jog — I run," he emphasized.

For a man with his stature in filmdom and record of public activity, Heston — who likes to be called Chuck — keeps a rare and unbreakable aura of privacy. No one meeting him for the first time feels like slapping him on the back or telling him a funny story.

"I have a more sober public image than probably reflects the truth," he admitted. "But I do try to keep my private life private, and don't go out much. This creates the picture of a pretty square guy."

"Well, I do take very seriously what I take to be my duty."

Since he played Santa Claus in a school pageant at the age of 5, Chuck has portrayed with authority many larger-than-life figures. Besides acting as the offscreen voice of God, he has appeared as three presidents, several military heroes and two geniuses — Moses and Michelangelo.

About third of his 37 films — the latest is "The Hawaiians" — have been multimillion-dollar epics. He starred in two of the top 10 moneymakers in Hollywood history — "Ben-Hur" and "The Ten Commandments."

Others that rang the cash register in memorable manner include "El Cid," "Planet of the Apes," and "The Greatest Show on Earth."

"To me life is a challenge, and I hope it always will be," he said.

In his restless acceptance of those challenges, Heston is up to his usual challenges. He has twice been to Vietnam to entertain the troops, made four goodwill trips abroad for the U.S. State Department, served three terms as president of the Screen Actors Guild, and been an active fighter for civil rights.

He aspired to a career on stage and screen from the days during a lonely childhood when he started playing the roles in plays read aloud to him by his father, a Michigan sawmill operator.

After studying drama and speech at Northwestern University, he served three years in wartime as a radio operator aboard bombers in the Aleutian Islands.

He and his actress wife, Lydia Clarke, a former university classmate, then lived in a $30-a-month apartment here until Chuck got his first Broadway break in 1948 in a supporting role in Katharine Cornell's production of "Antony and Cleopatra."

Following appearances in other Broadway shows, summer stock and television plays, Heston landed a contract with producer Hal Wallis for "Dark City" without even taking a screen test. Hollywood had found another of the stars it likes best — those that can bring in the big buck.

"I like my life. I'm very happy," said Chuck.

Opening lead—king of spades. Here is a hand from the annual intercollegiate championships. South gets to four hearts and West starts with the K-A of spades. How should declarer play the hand?

It is very easy to misplay the hand if you fail to fully consider the not too remote possibility of going down. In fact, most of the Souths who played the hand misfired rather quickly when they ruffed the second spade lead, drew trumps, and attempted the diamond finesse.

Another gal in this department pointed out that Miss Virtue always wears the same dress on Wednesday that she wore on Tuesday. And on Wednesday her usually perfect hair-do looks like a rat's nest. This means, of course, she has a standing date every Tuesday night with some guy — and she does not sleep at home.

Somebody should tip off Miss Virtue that we are on to her, but no one wants to. Will you do the honors? — In The Know

Dear In: According to your extraordinary powers of deduction, if a girl wears the same dress to work two days in a row she did not sleep at home. I'd say the evidence is fairly frail, Dearie. Who does your work while you figure all this stuff out?

Thanks for letting me know what some office workers do with their time.

Dear Ann Landers: Some people have terrible telephone manners. Please print my letter. Maybe the guilty will see themselves and get smart.

I have a friend whom I call occasionally. If her daughter answers the phone she says, "Mom is busy. I'll have her call you back." Sometimes Mom doesn't call back until the next day when I am too busy to talk. In other words, my friend will talk to me when it is convenient for her.

Had the trumps been divided 3-3, the method of play described would have made the contract rather easily, but with the actual—and more likely—4-2 division, declarer was heading straight for disaster if it turned out that East had the king of diamonds.

Declarer's proper line of play is really quite simple. He should discard a diamond at trick two in order to protect against a 4-2 trump division. Once he does this, the defense is permanently stymied.

West can do no better than continue with a third round of spades, but South can now afford to ruff with greater equanimity.

He draws the queen of diamonds, and finesse when West follows low. East wins with the king, but, since he does not have a spade to return, South makes the contract.

In effect, declarer draws East's fangs by conceding a spade trick to West at trick two. It is a trick that South can well afford to concede in the interests of safety.

Draft Ruling

The United States Supreme Court, which through its decisions has exercised perhaps as much influence on the American public as the Legislative or Executive branches of government, handed down another decision with far-reaching implications this week.

The court ruled by a 5-3 majority that a person can claim exemption to the draft if he holds deep moral or ethical views against war without their being based on any conventional "religious" belief. The case was that of Elliott A. Welsh II, who refused to submit to induction and based his conscientious objector status solely on his personal ethical and moral beliefs. He was specific in refusing that his opposition stemmed from "religious training and belief."

Justice Hugo L. Black wrote the majority opinion and said:

"If an individual deeply and sincerely holds beliefs which are purely ethical and moral in source and content, but which nevertheless impose upon him a duty of conscience to refrain from participating in any war at any time, those beliefs certainly occupy in the life of that individual a place parallel with that filled by . . . God in traditionally religious persons. Because his beliefs function as a religion in his life, such an individual is as much entitled to a religious conscientious objector exemption as is someone who derives his conscientious opposition to war from traditional religious conviction."

Expanding the religious qualifications of conscientious objector exemption to cover "ethical and moral" beliefs is going to cause problems for more than 4,000 local draft boards throughout the nation who have to sort out, according to the law and the court ruling, the people with deep feelings and the others with only a deep desire to avoid military service.

In view of other court decisions interpreting the separation of church and state (banning of prayer in schools, for one) provisions of the Constitution, however, the ruling Monday is consistent, although only Justice John M. Harlan may have hit on the basic reason. Justice Harlan said the whole attempt of Congress to grant exemptions on religious grounds runs contrary to the 1st Amendment to the Constitution. He said the separation of church and state required under the Amendment forbids Congress from making any attempt to single out religious registrants for exemptions. The effort, he said, "not only accords a preference to the 'religious' but disadvantages adherents of religions that do not worship a Supreme being." Under the amendment, Harlan wrote, Congress must be neutral in matters of religion.

Harlan's reasoning runs against what has been the accepted practice in the United States, but it makes sense. If Congress shall make no law abridging religious freedom, then it should likewise grant no special exemptions for practice of certain religions.

Tuesday, Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr spelled out four guidelines which he said would be communicated to local draft boards to assist them in interpreting the Supreme Court decisions:

- The man's belief must be sincere;
- The man must be opposed to war in all forms. The decision does not open the door to exemption to a particular war;
- It must be something more than a personal moral code. He needs to have taken into account the thoughts of other wise men; he needs to have consulted more system of belief;
- His belief needs to be the result of some rigorous kind of training.

The "guidelines" of Tarr don't appear to make any significant changes in the present policies, although "rigorous" may carry a different sense than religious. That language, in fact, may be the grounds for the next test of the draft law, which seems to be under the strongest threat. Unless it is changed, in fact, someday someone is likely to question taking only men, not women.

The volunteer Army proposals may have some problems, but it might be sound thinking to get it off the ground before the entire concept of the draft is ruled unconstitutional, leaving the country without an Army at all.

Gus Hanson, former Wakefield resident, was honored at a testimonial dinner in downtown Ferndale, where he is retiring after 35 years of serving as coach and athletic director. Hanson, who was born in Sweden, came to the Upper Peninsula at an early age. He earned 12 letters in sports at Wakefield High School and all-state basketball acclaim in 1925. He graduated from Western Michigan University and received his master's degree at the University of Michigan. He started coaching in Ferndale in 1936.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kolbus, owners of Munising Falls, received notice that the National Park Service has condemned that recreation area for purchase by the government. The falls area, which includes 20 acres of land on the east side of the city, is located in the inner zone of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. It is one of the Upper Peninsula's top tourist attraction. Along with collecting a fee from sightseers who visit the falls, Mr. and Mrs. Kolbus operate a concession stand at the entrance to the area.

Four newcomers were elected to the board of education in the Iron Mountain and Breitung Township - Kingsford school districts. Named to seats on the Iron Mountain board were William Verrette and Glenn C. Neff. Gaining spots on the Breitung Township - Kingsford school board were Mrs. Gloria Boyce and Harry J. Farley. Iron Mountain school electors also gave overwhelming support to renewal of 15.6 mills for operational expenses for five years. The current 15.6 mills expires this year.

New Rules Are Applied To Old Game In Nation

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

County, they suggest that an industrial park be set up on the BASF-owned site on the Colleton River.

The kids used to play a game of identification called "animal, vegetable or mineral." All three substances, or resources, are necessary to human life.

However, in the development of the United States the "mineral" category — and what comes out of it in our factories — has always had first place.

Our ecologists are new changing the rating. Not swiftly, not overwhelmingly. But they are getting more and more of a public.

For instance, in Idaho, a proposed open pit molybdenum mining development in the White Clouds mountain region north of Sun Valley would threaten, through its distribution of tailings wastes, some of the finest salmon spawning grounds in the Columbia River system.

The ecologists are claiming that we already have plenty of molybdenum, which is used to harden steel. But the supply of salmon is threatened from a hundred different directions as we build more and more dams in the rivers. So what will you take in the resource-identification game: animal (salmon) or mineral (molybdenum)?

The salmon have a chance of winning.

The identification game is taking a new turn in South Carolina, where the Badische Anilin and Soda-Fabrik company (BASF) of West Germany proposes to build a $200-million dye and plastic plant on the Colleton River near Beaufort. Since BASF would use naphtha, an oil derivative, as a base for its production, it qualifies, roughly speaking, as a "mineral" user. (For the purists, let me say that I am quite aware that oil, in prehistoric ages, was once vegetable matter.)

The conservationists are claiming that we already have plenty of molybdenum, which is used to harden steel. No Clearing Of Economic Gloom Seen This Year

Don't expect economic conditions to improve materially this year, Donald Adam, assistant professor of economics, Bay de Noe Community College, told the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

"There's very little good news coming forth from any part of the economy," he said.

Adam was introduced by Thomas Straebel, club president.

Seeing no end to the "slow-down or recession or call it what you will," the professor of economics said that it would appear pointless to debate what caused the problem, "what we can do to get us out of the doldrums."

Slow Recovery

The national administration is seeking to slow the force of inflation but the effort has so far been largely unrewarding, he noted.

Profits are altering, unemployment is rising, and interest rates are high. The latter, he added, is one of the factors creating a national depression in the housing industry, for young people are unable to meet the rising costs. It also explains the "plus in the housing business"—the boom in mobile homes.

Inflation is not a short-term thing; the "binge" has been under way since the early 1960's; the cost of living goes up 5 and 6 per cent annually; and the longer the "binge" continues the more difficult will be the recovery, Adam said.

Chain Reaction

Michigan has been hard hit by the recession because of the slowdown effect on the auto industry, and unemployment is up 6 per cent over last year.

In Detroit, officials are concerned about the prospect of a long hot summer magnified by unemployment problems.

A part of the national "picture"—color TV sales are down 26 per cent compared to a year ago.

Each of the problems related to the economy are like links in a chain, said Adam. Move one of the links and the whole chain is affected.

"If you should ask me about the economy within the next 10 years I might have a more optimistic report," he concluded.

Gas Leak Blamed For House Blast

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A Gross Pointe Woods man was hospitalized Tuesday with burns after an explosion at a farmhouse he had recently bought.

Richard Meyers, 22, was taken to a Traverse City hospital after the explosion at the house near Lake Ann. State Police said Meyers carried a candle into the basement for an inspection and apparently touched off the explosion. Authorities said a natural gas leak may have been the cause.

He was reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Postal Reform Bill Summary

By The Associated Press

Here is a summary of the postal reform-pay boost on which the House began debate Tuesday:

The Bill: The House bill would create an independent U.S. Postal Service with corporate powers to put the mails on a self-paying basis by 1978 - and boost mailmen's pay 8 per cent retroactive to April 18.

The Controversy: The major House fight is over potential compulsory union membership for mailmen, and the retroactive pay.

The Prospects: The House is expected to pass the bill rather than risk another nationwide mail strike threatened for next week but there is room for a surprise defeat. A filibuster is threatened in the Senate but approval is expected there also.

Background: President Nixon originally wanted creation of a postal corporation to wipe out mail deficits of up to $1.2 billion a year but that met heavy opposition in Congress. Creation of the U.S. Postal Service within the government—tied to the 8 per cent pay boost—was negotiated by the administration and postal unions after the mail strike in March and is supported by the President.

'Clean' Beans Goal For Certified Seed

By J. L. HEIRMAN

What can be a hindrance for some types of farming can be a blessing for special type farming.

A case in point is the Fayette area of the Garden Peninsula in Delta County. When we speak in broad terms we could say that the Fayette area is isolated and therefore very limited in its agricultural potential.

Fayette is about 30 miles away from a railroad and 20 miles from state trunkline which would provide transportation for agricultural products.

These are not great distances but when a given agricultural product is more readily assessable it gets more attention and can compete in the highly competitive market.

If distance to market is a problem because of isolation then the thing to do is produce a commodity that is very much in demand and limited in production. This is what a group of Fayette farmers are planning to do. They are going to take advantage of their isolated area and grow certified field beans.

300 Acres In Seed
It is very difficult to grow certified seed beans in a farming area where other beans are growing. Beans are very susceptible to diseases and the diseases can be transmitted from field to field covering miles in a matter of days.

The Fayette area is bordered by water on three sides and miles of woods on the fourth side. This isolates the area from disease problems and makes it possible to produce a product in demand by farmers growing beans for the commercial market.

Some beans have been grown in the Fayette area over the past 3 or 4 years. The results were good so now they are ready to take off on the seed producing program.

The first effort will be to produce white pea and red kidney beans. This year 300 acres will be planted using foundation seed. About 15 to 20 acres of certified snap bean seed will also be produced for a seed company in New York State.

Strictest Controls

The potentials are far greater than this but it is a good start for the first year. The five growers are hopeful that the community will be cooperative in the new venture. They are asking that no tablestock beans be grown in the area from which disease might spread to a certified field. People growing gardens are asked to use good clean seed of known origin.

Growing certified bean seed will not be the only crop grown by these Fayette farmers. In order to carry out a proper rotation other crops will enter into the program.

This year a start was made growing foundation oats and foundation red clover seed.

In the future more farmers will want to get into the bean seed growing business because the demand for good seed is always present. The present growers hope to work closely with new growers in order to keep the quality of the program at a high level. The program starts with proper preparation of fields for planting, insect and disease control, proper harvesting methods, storage and marketing. All of the practices are important, leaving one to chance could spell failure of an entire crop.

The growing of certified bean seed is quite different from the type of farming of the past in Fayette area. At one time there was a cheese factory operating in the community and most farms had dairy cows. There were also a sizeable number of beef cattle on many farms.

Dairy cattle gradually decreased in numbers and with it went the cheese factory. The beef cattle are still present with larger herds on fewer farms. The few remaining dairy farms are shipping milk as far as 100 miles away.

More Growing Days
There is another condition besides isolation that should be mentioned and that is weather conditions.

When comparing temperatures there is no other place in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan where we have as many growing days. During the summer the air is tempered by the water.

As a result we never have to worry too much about extreme heat that could cause the blossom drop and result in poor yields. The influence of the water temperature is also an aid in the fall, keeping away frost that normally occurs in areas.

The first effort will be to produce white pea and red kidney beans. This year 300 acres will be planted using foundation seed. About 15 to 20 acres of certified snap bean seed will also be produced for a seed company in New York State.

UAW To Ignore Nixon's Wage Rollback Plan

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)

—The president of the United Workers said Tuesday that the union would reject any effort by President Nixon to roll back union wage requests in forthcoming negotiations with the nation's automobile manufacturers.

Leonard Woodcock made the comment during a Grand Rapids news conference before a speech to hundreds of union members throughout Western Michigan.

Woodcock's comment came in response to a question as to whether the union would cut its wage requests if the President called the requests inflationary.

"No. Mr. Nixon's batting average in the economic sphere is not such as to warrant us to have great faith in him. I don't think we'd pay too much attention because we don't think it (the President's criticism) would be grounded in good economics," Woodcock said.

Woodcock contended that the administration's economic policy is "having a devastating effect upon the country. We think it's an uncertain policy as well as being a wrong policy."

The union leader said the solution to inflation lies in cutting "the wasteful, inflationary spending in the federal budget." He singled out defense spending as an area where $20 billion could be saved.

In this year's bargaining, the UAW will stress substantial wage increases, retirement after 30 years of work and restoration of a formula providing unlimited cost-of-living increases, Woodcock said.

However, he contended that what the union was seeking in wages would be a noninflationary increase—one where the auto companies would not need to boost prices but could still make a profit.

Woodcock said the union will press for all three goals "most vigorously."

He refused to say what amount of increase will be sought. "I'm not dealing in percentages," he said.

Woodcock contended that a six-month freeze upon wages and prices, as proposed by some economists, "would freeze a gross inequity into the system."

But the union leader said the UAW would support a Presidential-approved board to review hikes in wages or prices.

Less than a thousand windmills survive in Holland today, with only about 300 in working order. Most of the rest are abandoned and await restoration in government-encouraged program, or are now private homes, restaurants and shops.

Nader Says 5,000 Patients Victims Of Electrocution

DETROIT (AP) — Ralph Nader has charged the U.S. medical profession with electrocuting 5,000 patients yearly and then covering up their deaths.

Speaking to the national convention of the American Society of Medical Technologists held in Detroit Tuesday, Nader said "the serious problem of accidental electrocution of patients is due to the low level of training and competence" of doctors and technicians using new electronic equipment.

Nader said he based his estimate of the number of electrocution deaths on conversations with doctors and technicians at recent meetings on the subject.

He said such deaths are usually attributed to "cardiac arrest," by physicians and administrators who fear malpractice suits.

Referring to the national convention of the American Society of Medical Technologists held in Detroit Tuesday, Nader said, "There is no other area where negligence is so widespread and where facts are so covered up." He said the "closed nature" of hospitals make "external inquiry of medical violence impossible."

Miami Scene Of More Disorders

MIAMI (AP) — Gunfire has erupted in the city's black neighborhoods for the second straight night and five persons were wounded by officers' bullets, including two white men trying to protect their place of business.

City officials ordered a dusk-to-dawn curfew after violence spread Tuesday from the Brownsville area to two other large Negro districts.

Police said one of the black men wounded was a sniper and another a looter. A third Negro walked into a hospital and said he was shot as he sat on his front porch.

Shooting began Monday night after reports circulated that a black housewife had been insulted in a supermarket.

Officials said 16 other persons were injured. Most were white and suffered cuts when their windshields and car windows were broken by chunks of pavement and stones. One was admitted to a hospital.

A number of cars driven by whites were burned.

The two white men who were shot had stationed themselves with guns on the roof of their construction-business building.

Officials said Lisbon C. Morris, 42, owner of L. C. Morris Construction and Paving Co., was in critical condition with neck and body wounds.

Police said Morris and Douglas Leach, 57, opened fire on them when they arrived at the building to investigate a burglary report. Leach was in fair condition.

Religious Belief Not Aligned To Deferments

By BARRY SCHWEIß

WASHINGTON (AP) — In vastly expanding the grounds for draft exemption the Supreme Court has acknowledged that a man may have deep moral and ethical objections to war while not being religious in the formal and traditional sense.

The 5-3 ruling Monday seems to reflect, in this regard, the curious growth of ethical fervor among much of today's youth alongside a corresponding disinterest in the formal religion of their elders.

Elliott Ashton Welsh II, the Beverly Hills, Calif., commodity broker who had said he could not injure or kill another human being was reared in a religious home and attended a Christian Science Sunday School.

But he did not rest his plea for conscientious objector status on traditional religion itself. On one occasion he struck the word "religion" from his application. On another he said his antiwar beliefs were "certainly religious in the ethical sense of that word."

Obviously uncertain about the extent of his own formal religion, Welsh today says: "I don't belong to any church, but I'm not an atheist." He also says: "Maybe you'd call me an agnostic because I leave open the question of religion; but I don't like labels."

It was enough for four justices that Welsh was sincere and steadfast in his beliefs; that they were deeply held and not a matter of expediency—that they were not adopted simply to avoid Army duty.

The four, Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall, generally liberal in their interpretations, apparently decided on a pragmatic approach.

They evidently wished to give legal recognition to the fact that formally religious people do not have a monopoly on conscientious opposition to killing other human beings, that individuals often on their own develop objections that are as deep as those held by firm believers in the traditional God or Supreme Being.

There is some question, though, that Congress had this in mind when it specified C.O. status be granted men who "by reason of religious training and belief . . . [are] conscientiously opposed to participation in war in any form."

The three dissenters, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White, were certain Congress did not intend to exempt men who disdain religious objections to war and whose views represent a purely personal code arising from philosophy, history and sociology rather than from religious training and belief.

"Our obligation in statutory construction cases is to enforce the will of Congress, not our own," White wrote.

The eighth justice, John M. Harlan, said the majority had performed a lobotomy, erasing the distinction Congress intended to make between religiously acquired beliefs and those derived mostly from politics, sociology or philosophy.

But Harlan joined the reversal of Welsh's conviction because he said the Constitution prohibits Congress from aiding religious groups by granting religious exemptions from military service.

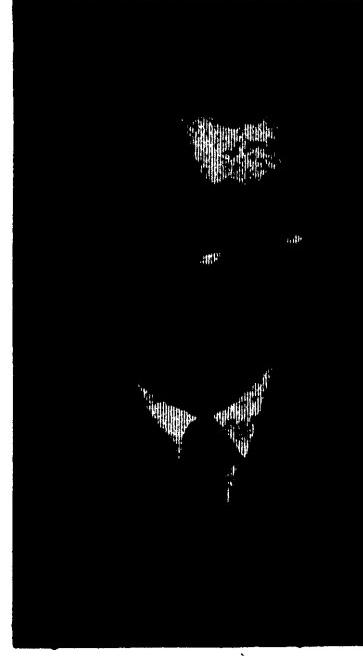

Whether draft boards will be able to follow both Congress and the court is problem material at this point. Deciding who to exempt and who to draft has always been a problem.

As John Harlan noted, during World War I, when the exemption was granted to members or affiliates with "well-recognized religious sects," the Selective Service System found it impracticable to compile a list of "recognized" sects and left the matter to the discretion of local boards.

As a result, some boards treated religious and nonreligious objectors in the same manner. Finally, Harlan said, conscientious objector status was opened by presidential regulation to all conscientious objectors without regard to any religious qualifications.

In subsequent years Congress and the courts altered the definition of a conscientious objector several times without settling the problem.

The Welsh decision, while evidently reflecting the mood of the times, may not be the final answer yet—though Harlan, for one, observed the new test "would appear easier than the arcane inquiry required to determine whether beliefs are religious or secular in nature."

Tax Break For State Property Owners Seen

LANSING (AP) — An election-year tax break for property owners, resulting in what opponents call "crippling" revenue losses for local units of government, has won approval in the Michigan Senate.

The bill, adopted 24-8 and sent to the House Tuesday, would, in effect, "freeze" local revenue from property taxes—except for new construction—even when assessed valuation increased.

Opponents said the bill, sponsored by Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, could mean losses of $180 million a year for county, township and city government as well as school districts.

Senate Taxation Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, supported the measure, saying it would help stop the "running horse" of taxation on the people.

Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, balked at the argument.

ment, however, opposing the bill, in Lansing." DeMaso contended that present practices lead to a "double-dip" into taxpayers' pockets.

Experts explained that currently, when assessed valuation increases, local units continue to collect property tax at a previously established level—thereby increasing their revenue.

Bowman's bill would halt that practice, providing that local units may not collect more money after an assessment adjustment than before, except in the case of new construction.

Perch Fishermen Said Doing Okay

WHEATLEY, Ont. (AP) — Lake Erie perch fishermen are not facing bankruptcy because of the recent mercury contamination scare, a spokesman for the largest commercial fishing firm in the western end of the lake said.

The spokesman for Omstead Fisheries located in this town about 33 miles southeast of Windsor, said since the ban on perch fishing in the lake was lifted in April by the federal government, contamination has never posed a threat to his firm's operation.

He was commenting on a statement made by James Hall, an operator of two fishing boats in the area, who said about 2,000 pounds of perch taken in the area had to be destroyed because of mercury contamination. Hall estimated his losses this year at $50,000.

The Omstead spokesman said no production output problems have been encountered. "We do not sell any fish except what is passed by the government," he said.

Opponents said the bill, sponsored by Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, could mean losses of $160 million a year for county, township and city government as well as school districts.

"This creates a sham, that we're doing something to give property tax relief," Levin said. "But this would take money away from local units."

Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, blasted the bill as "putting an increasing and unfair burden on those entities most in need of money. When you get through shorting the schools and shorting the cities, there's only one place for them to go for money," he said. "and we all know the money's not here."

DeMaso contended that present practices lead to a "double-dip" into taxpayers' pockets.

Democratic Primary 'Dog Fight' Foreseen

LANSING (AP) — Democrats have an old fashioned dog fight going in the primary race for governor as four candidates filed nominating petitions by the 4 p.m. deadline Tuesday.

Gov. William Milliken had only one opponent in his bid for his first four-year term. Sure to be a gaudy but describing himself as more than just a nuisance candidate is James C. Turner, a Howell publisher who specializes in exposés.

Turner already has dubbed the Republican governor "Milktoast Milliken" as a tip on the way he is going to harrass the incumbent.

Montgomery Files

Last among the Democrats to file as a gubernatorial aspirant was Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, majority floor leader of the House of Representatives.

Montgomery earlier had expressed some fears about being able to collect enough signatures. The Democratic requirement is 13,371 but the candidates always give themselves a fat cushion over this number to make up for any that might be eliminated.

Montgomery put on a late spurt and came up with more than 20,000 signatures some two and one-half hours before the deadline.

Three Others File

Earlier Democratic filers were Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley; former state party Chairman Zoltan Ferenczy and George Parris of Mount Clemens, Macomb County prosecutor.

The Democratic turnout was the first real hot primary slugfest since 1960. In that year, former Gov. John B. Swainson beat out present Secretary of State James Hare and Edward Connor, a Detroit city councilman, for the right to succeed former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Earlier, there were only mild contests among Democrats while Williams was in residence at the executive office for a record six terms.

Williams is back this year as

Waste Glass Melted In Company Project

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Motorists lined up outside an Ann Arbor shopping center Tuesday to dump their throw-away bottles and jars which a glass company will melt down and reuse as its part in reducing the nation's waste disposal problems.

The project is sponsored jointly by Owens-Illinois, Inc., a national packaging firm which is paying one penny per pound for the waste glass—and Environmental Action for Survival (ENACT), an ecology group which asked the firm to sponsor project in Ann Arbor as its first attempt to collect waste glass at a site away from one of its plants.

Before the collection center officially opened at 10 a.m., ENACT volunteers had already unloaded more than 50 loads totaling 1,500 pounds of waste glass. Cars loaded with disposable glass—which otherwise cashing in the voucher, just yet

Machines Won't Replace Office Workers In 1970s

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — True or false: The proliferation of labor-saving office machines will greatly diminish the need for all types of office workers during the 1970s?

One glance at the array of bookkeeping machines, copiers, duplicators, automatic typewriters, electronic computers and other office furnishings might convince you that the 1970s will indeed be the age of the machines.

The answer, however, is false. It quite likely will be a decade of increasing demand for office workers.

Increase Expected

Studies by the Labor Department indicate that whereas there were 13 million clerical workers in 1968, there might well be 15 million at work in 1975. Jobs might be eliminated, but new ones are expected to be created.

Jobs for secretaries and stenographers, the largest group of office workers—they number more than 2.5 million—are expected to grow very rapidly through the middle of the present decade, according to Herbert Beinstock, the department's New York director.

New Measure To Aid Elderly

LANSING (AP)—Less stringent old-age assistance standards for Michigan's elderly went on the lawbooks Tuesday with Gov. William G. Milliken's signature on a bill that takes effect July 1.

The new law, proposed in the House by Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, allows a couple over 65 to claim financial support under the State Social Welfare Act if their combined property has a value of less than $2,000.

Their home need not be included in calculating property worth. The old standard has been $1,000.

A single person could qualify with personal holdings of as much as $1,500, twice the old $750 ceiling.

Under the new law, applicants need wait only one year after selling, buying or transferring property instead of five years as is the case now.

Household goods, clothing, farming equipment, livestock and, in some cases, health insurance would also be exempt from calculation of the maximum personal worth for assistance.

Three other bills signed Tuesday by the governor:

—Allow the State Highway Commission to approve relocation grants to persons whose homes are destroyed or moved for highway construction. The aid would be independent of a negotiated condemnation settlement.

—Authorize the State Education Board to require a majority to plan for continuing a library if it withdraws from a district library system.

— Amend the election code to determine form of paper ballots if there are three or more parties represented in a primary election.

1,670 Registrants Set For Induction

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Local draft boards will order some 1,670 registrants for induction into the Army during July, said State Selective Service Director Arthur Holmes.

Holmes said it is expected the July call will reflect the induction of an increasing number of college students who were graduated during the spring months.

Local boards now are applying new regulations prohibiting the granting of new fatherhood and occupational deferments after April 23, 1970.

The following quotas have been set for Upper Peninsula counties: Alger (2); Baraga (1); Chippewa (6); Delta (5); Dickinson (6); Gogebic (2); Houghton (0); Iron (2); Keweenaw (0); Luce (1); Mackinac (2); Marquette (10); Menominee (1); Ontonagon (2); Schoolcraft (0).

Experts Claim:

Population Could Triple In 80 Years

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — Unless current trends change the world 80 years hence will have three persons for every one now living.

That is the projection of the U.N. secretariat, presented in a background paper to help a committee of experts suggest new studies on the relationships between population trends and economic development.

The paper says the world is "faced with the high probability that, if present trends continue, the inhabitants of the planet may outnumber 11 billion as early as the middle of the 21st century".

Price Increase On Atomic Fuel Being Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nixon administration proposal to hike the price of atomic fuel has drawn stiff congressional opposition on grounds it could raise electric bills for everyone who owns a light bulb and lead to a private monopoly of nuclear energy.

In most developing countries,

it says, high population growth

tends to increase the numbers of those segments of the population—illiterate, unskilled, agricultural, rural and the like which were characteristic of pre-modern societies. Thus such growth "is conducive to perpetuating economic backward-

ness, low productivity and inadequate living conditions."

"However," the paper says, "in view of the modest achievements of these programs, there is a growing appreciation that family planning alone cannot bring fertility to an adequate level, and that economic and social change has to pave the way for fertility control."

Other Projects

Here are some other projections, based on Labor Department estimates:

Receptionists: Expected to grow as rapidly as in the 1960s, mainly because of an expected continuation of business expansion.

No machine yet devised can replace even the slightest amount of sex appeal.

Bank tellers: Very rapid growth through 1975. An increasing number are expected to be part-timers, employed

during peak hours at midday and in evenings.

Court Of Appeals In Michigan Has Time On Its Hands

LANSING (AP) — Whether or not the question of daylight savings time will go on the November general election ballot will be decided this week by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Lawyers representing the Wolverine Golf Club, whose petition for DST was circulated by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, argued for accepting the petitions before the court Monday.

The three plants are located at Paducah, Ky., Portsmouth, Ohio, and Oakridge, Tenn. One of these presumably would be used to instruct industry technicians on the procedure.

Fear Foul Play In Inkster Death

INKSTER (AP) — The apparent kidnap-murder of an Inkster man is being investigated by state and Inkster police.

Police said the bound body of Willie J. Roberts, 30, was found in Ford Lake near the Ford Motor Co. plant in Ypsilanti Monday. A Washtenaw County coroner's report indicated death by drowning.

Police said Roberts was last seen alive by his wife Friday morning when he was abducted from his house by four men.

Fieger called the rule an "added burden to the right of initiative."

The petitions call for a referendum on the issue of "fast time."

Craig said the petitions contain the necessary number of signatures and are ready to be filed.

If the court finds in favor of the golf club all citizens groups will be able to file petitions in favor of DST during any legislative session.

Papyrus Vessel At Halfway Mark

COLLA MICHERI, Italy (AP) — Thor Heyerdahl's papyrus boat has passed the halfway mark in its Atlantic crossing from Africa to Central America, his wife reported today.

Mrs. Heyerdahl said the Norwegian navigator told her by radio Tuesday night that the Ra II was sailing regularly, making good time and was 1,659 miles from its starting point at Safi, Morocco.

Heyerdahl and an international crew are trying to prove that the ancient Egyptians could have discovered America by crossing the Atlantic in papyrus vessels. Their attempt last year failed when stormy seas swamped their first papyrus boat Ra.

"The only trouble faced by Thor and the crew so far were the large areas of naphtha through which the Ra II was forced to sail in the last few days and which prevented under-water filming," Mrs. Heyerdahl said.

Reappointment

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has reappointed Marquette Police Chief George Johnson to the State Law Enforcement Council for a term ending Jan. 1, 1973. Senate confirmation is required.

The estimated 1970 population is 3,362 billion.

The secretariat shows what it means by "present trends" in detailed projections to the end of the 20th century.

These indicate that from now till then the world's crude birth rate will fall a fourth—from 33.2 down to 25.1 live births per 1,000 people—while the crude death rate will fall a third—from 12.8 to 8.1 deaths per 1,000. Life expectancy at birth will rise to 66 1/2 years from 55 1/2.

that no machine has demonstrated to anyone's satisfaction. As a result, they will be little affected by technology.

Bookkeepers, the second largest category of office worker, may be affected a bit more than stenographers-secretaries, but this group too is expected to continue growing. There are more than 1.2 million now.

More Typists Needed

Employment for typists, the department's figures indicate, is expected to rise rapidly through 1975. Some junior typing jobs

Price Increase On Atomic Fuel Being Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nixon administration proposal to hike the price of atomic fuel has drawn stiff congressional opposition on grounds it could raise electric bills for everyone who owns a light bulb and lead to a private monopoly of nuclear energy.

The complex issue concerns the administration's proposed 10 per cent increase for uranium enrichment services, presently performed exclusively by the Atomic Energy Commission.

"You'll see the price go up on every kilowatt of power in the United States," Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said Monday at a hearing of the Senate-House Joint Atomic Energy Committee.

"Not only is this inflationary in itself, but . . . it sets a horrible example for every other industry," said Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

The AEC argued the cost hike would justify establishment of a model plant to provide private industry with the know-how to enrich uranium.

The Atomic Energy commissioners, who already have approved the hike, added the price boost could be justified on grounds of increased costs.

Holifield and others charged the model plant concept eventually would lead to the private takeover of the three government-owned plants now performing the task.

The three plants are located at Paducah, Ky., Portsmouth, Ohio, and Oakridge, Tenn. One of these presumably would be used to instruct industry technicians on the procedure.

Rusk Shys Away From War Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breaking an 18-month silence on the Vietnam war, former Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday he declined public comment on the Nixon administration's handling of the conflict because "it is unseemly for me to be a grandstand quarterback."

Rusk told a forum of the American Society of International Law that failure to win peace in Vietnam was the greatest disappointment of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

As for the Nixon administration, Rusk said, "I feel that since the American people have elected a new president it is unseemly for me to be a grandstand quarterback or to throw bricks because the new president could not find answers to that which eluded us."

"I pray for wisdom and compassion for those lonely people who have to make decisions in Washington," said the secretary of state under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Local boards now are applying new regulations prohibiting the granting of new fatherhood and occupational deferments after April 23, 1970.

MANISTIQUE

Manistique Man Dies In Crash In Alger County

James Henning Mattson, 22, of Rte. 1, Manistique, was killed early today when his automobile struck a moving freight train on M-28 between Shingleton and Munising in Alger County.

He was pronounced dead at the scene.

State Police of the Munising Post said Mattson, who was alone in his automobile, obviously failed to see the flagman on duty at the Soo Line crossing or flares along the roadway. There was heavy fog at the time of the accident and several cars of the train were derailed by the impact, officers said.

Mattson was returning to his home in Manistique from Marquette when the accident happened at 1:05 a.m.

James H. Mattson was born July 12, 1947, in Manistique and graduated from Manistique High School in 1965. He received his degree from Northern Michigan University in 1969 and was a junior high school teacher in the Cass City, Mich., public school system.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henning E. Mattson, Rte. 1, Manistique, his grandmother, Mrs. Mathilda Wieland of Manistique, and one brother, Jerry, of Utica.

Friends may call at the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Thursday. Rev. Ingmar Levin will officiate at funeral services Friday at 2 p.m. at the funeral home. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Isabella

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and four children of Warren, spent the weekend at the cabin of Mrs. Smith's parents, the Kermit Sundlings. The four Smith children will remain with their grandmother at the cabin for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Knudsen and son have moved into their home at Isabella, the former Ralph Morrison farm. Mrs. Knudsen is the former Margaret Sundling.

Thursday evening guests at the home of Mrs. Esther Bonifas were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sundin, Mrs. Ted Sundin, Gust Moberg, Mrs. Beda Sundin and Mrs. Al Asplund and Darlene.

Mrs. Esthel Bonifas left Friday for Warsaw, Wis., where she will visit at the home of Mrs. May McCoy and Miss Dorothy Fard.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison and Mrs. William Johnson of Chicago spent the weekend visiting relatives and friends in Isabella and Manistique.

Mrs. Al Asplund, Mrs. Beda Sundin, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sundin attended confirmation services at Bethany Lutheran Church at Escanaba Sunday. Mike Peterson, son of the Ken Petersons was a confirmand.

Mrs. Harvey Sundin entertained a group of friends at her home Friday afternoon. Present were Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison, Mrs. William Johnson of Chicago, Mrs. Merlin Milliken of Atkinson, Kansas, Mrs. Al Asplund and Mrs. Beda Sundin of Cunard. Mrs. Gust Soderberg of Masonville, Mrs. Caleb Jonson, and Mrs. Raymond Nedea.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nedeau of Detroit visited over the weekend at the homes of relatives in Isabella and Cooks.

Pleads Guilty To Concealing Stolen Goods

Gordon Baker, 727 Garden Ave., was released on $50 bond after pleading guilty Monday in Circuit Court to receiving and aiding in the concealment of stolen property in excess of $100 when he appeared before Judge William F. Hood.

Upon motion of acting prosecutor John Shimmons of Newberry, the court dismissed the original charge against Baker: breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. Both charges are felonies. Shimmons was acting in the absence of Schoolcraft County prosecutor G. S. Johnson who is ill.

Baker will appear for sentencing after an investigative report is filed with the court by the state probation officer. His plea relates to the March 18 breaking and entering of the industrial arts department of the high school.

Three other youths pleaded guilty to breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny and were each sentenced to 30 days in the county jail; fined $50 court costs; placed on two years probation; and ordered to pay restitution costs to the Manistique Area Schools as determined by the probation officer's investigation. The three are Frank G. Chase and Patrick J. Courneya, both of Rte. 1, Manistique, and Randy E. Diro, Madison, Wis.

The three admitted breaking into the Fairview School in Manistique Township in May and stealing some equipment and food. Most of the items stolen were recovered by state police.

William Couillard of Escanaba was found to be in contempt of court and ordered to pay $100 support for his minor children. The court asked the Friend of the Court to review the case and set up a schedule of payments for the children's welfare.

Swimming Class Registration Begins Today

Jo Maniaci, head lifeguard for the Gladstone beach, today announced that children may sign up for swimming lessons at the beach from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., beginning today through next Wednesday.

Classes will be offered for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, advanced swimmers, life saving, and the swim and stay fit program.

A one mile marker will be set up to enable members of the swim and stay fit program to complete their 50 mile accumulative swimming requirement for the summer.

Adult classes during the evening are being planned for those interested and the scheduled evening will be decided later according to the convenience of the members.

Persons from the Flat Rock and Rapid River area may sign up for classes at the beginning of their first lesson.

The opening day of the Gladstone beach will be June 29, according to Jo Maniaci.

GM 'Slapped' For Ignoring Negro Employee

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission has charged a Flint-area General Motors Corp facility with failing to promote a qualified black employee.

It was the second MRCR charge against GM's Chevrolet National Parts Distribution Division at Swartz Creek in two months.

The employee, Alfred L. Carter, said that since 1962, he has been denied promotion from an hourly wage to a salaried position because of his race. He alleges he is as well or better qualified than successful white applicants for the position he applied for — that of procurement clerk.

The commission asks that GM be ordered to promote Carter to the salaried position and reimburse him for wages and benefits he would have earned if he had not been discriminated against.

Meanwhile, the commission filed a second charge against a Detroit landlady, Mrs. Ralph G. Clark, who earlier was charged with unlawful discrimination in the rental of property, in violation of the Michigan Fair Housing Act.

Also named was Mrs. Clark's real estate broker, Eastside Building and Rental Agency, which was acting as her agent.

Both were named in separate complaints by Mrs. Georgiana I. Norris, a black woman who said she was denied rental of a flat because of her race.

A third complaint against Mrs. Clark was filed by Eleanor Hoffman, a white woman who alleges Mrs. Clark is attempting to evict her because she gave a racially integrated party.

Honorary Degrees Slated For Pair

DETROIT (AP) — The presidents of Michigan State University and the University of Michigan will receive honorary degrees Saturday during commencement exercises of Wayne State University.

Michigan President Robben Fleming and MSU President Clifton Wharton will receive honorary Doctor of Law degrees in the exercises at Cob Hall in Detroit.

A record 4,493 candidates will be awarded degrees.

Garden Peninsula

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boudreau and family of Alpena visited this past week at the Cedarcrest Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill Nichols and with other relatives in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dotsch and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Arsenault and family of Marquette visited in the area and stayed at the Boudreau homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peshek of Chicago are visiting here with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. William Hermes. They came to attend the graduation of their grandson, Mike Hermes from Big Bay de Noc High School and will visit in the area for a week.

Kenneth Ralph and daughter Rosanne of St. Clair Shores have arrived in Garden for the summer months. Ralph is employed at the Fayette State Park during the summer and is principal in the St. Clair School system during the school year.

The Vacation Bible School schedule has been changed to 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. instead of afternoons and will be held at the Congregational Church in Garden for the week of June 22-26, with Wallace Fox, pastor, in charge.

Briefly Told

The American Legion Auxiliary meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Lakeside School. A White sale will be held. Bring your own table service for the potluck lunch.

GLADSTONE

THE EVANGELICAL Covenant Church of Gladstone will be the scene of folk and religious program Thursday at 8 p.m. The above group, "The Park Version," of North Park College, Chicago, will take part in the evening's program. The group, made up of four men and three women will render folk and religious music by the accompaniment of guitar, banjo and bass viol. The concerts are sponsored by churches within the Evangelical Covenant Church of America, the denomination which maintains North Park College. The public is welcome to the Gladstone program.

Some Negroes Nearing Parity In Better Jobs

Decorative Litter Barrels Placed On Gladstone Streets

Decorated litter barrels which have been placed in strategic locations in Gladstone have been painted by local youths under the direction of Mrs. Jo Maniaci, chairman.

The Delta County Highway Department donated 20 barrels to the cause, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Paint for the civic project was donated by Art Meyers, Tang's Color Headquarters and by Gamble's Store.

Cardboard holders for paint were donated by the Dairy Flow and the Chamber of Commerce supplied the paint brushes and cash prizes.

Mike, Ann and Linda Schoenemberger were awarded first prize for their painting job on a container; Bob, Pat and Tim Bishop, placed second; Chris Sepic and Susie Sullivan, third, and Lynn Johnson, fourth.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year... more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Craftsmen and operatives include industrial workers as well as specialists such as carpenters and plumbers. Not included are clerical and sales workers, service employees and laborers.

Poverty expert Sam Levitan of George Washington University's Center for Manpower Policy Studies said the figures indicate a slow but sure breakdown in racial barriers.

"They are very real changes," the economist said. "They are not just isolated in any particular geographic area or in any specific industry."

The Census Bureau prepared the tabulation at the request and expense of Levitan, who is studying America's blue collar work force.

Young Raymond Nedeau of Detroit visited over the weekend at the homes of relatives in Isabella and Cooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nedeau of Detroit visited over the weekend at the homes of relatives in Isabella and Cooks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peshek of Chicago are visiting here with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. William Hermes. They came to attend the graduation of their grandson, Mike Hermes from Big Bay de Noc High School and will visit in the area for a week.

Manistique Man Dies In Crash In Alger County

James Henning Mattson, 22, of Rte. 1, Manistique, was killed early today when his automobile struck a moving freight train on M-28 between Shingleton and Munising in Alger County.

He was pronounced dead at the scene.

State Police of the Munising Post said Mattson, who was alone in his automobile, obviously failed to see the flagman on duty at the Soo Line crossing or flares along the roadway. There was heavy fog at

Pleads Guilty To Concealing Stolen Goods

Gordon Baker, 727 Garden Ave., was released on $50 bond after pleading guilty Monday in Circuit Court to receiving and aiding in the concealment of stolen property in excess of $100 when he appeared before Judge William F. Hood.

Upon motion of acting prosecutor John Shimmons of Newberry, the court dismissed the original charge against Baker: breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. Both charges are felonies. Shimmons was acting in the absence of Schoolcraft County prosecutor G. S. Johnson who is ill.

Baker will appear for sentencing after an investigative report is filed with the court by the state probation officer. His plea relates to the March 18 breaking and entering of the industrial arts department of the high school.

Three other youths pleaded guilty to breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny and were each sentenced to 30 days in the county jail; fined $50 court costs; placed on two years probation; and ordered to pay restitution costs to the Manistique Area Schools as determined by the probation officer's investigation. The three are Frank G. Chase and Patrick J. Courneya, both of Rte. 1, Manistique, and Randy E. Diro, Madison, Wis.

The three admitted breaking into the Fairview School in Manistique Township in May and stealing some equipment and food. Most of the items stolen were recovered by state police.

William Couillard of Escanaba was found to be in contempt of court and ordered to pay $100 support for his minor children. The court asked the Friend of the Court to review the case and set up a schedule of payments for the children's welfare.

GM 'Slapped' For Ignoring Negro Employee

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission has charged a Flint-area General Motors Corp facility with failing to promote a qualified black employee.

It was the second MCRC charge against GMC's Chevrolet National Parts Distribution Division at Swartz Creek in two months.

The employee, Alfred L. Carter, said that since 1962, he has been denied promotion from an hourly wage to a salaried position because of his race. He alleges he is as well or better qualified than successful white applicants for the position he applied for — that of procurement clerk.

The commission asks that GM be ordered to promote Carter to the salaried position and reimburse him for wages and benefits he would have earned if he had not been discriminated against.

Meanwhile, the commission filed a second charge against a Detroit landlady, Mrs. Ralph G. Clark, who earlier was charged with unlawful discrimination in the rental of property, in violation of the Michigan Fair Housing Act.

Also named was Mrs. Clark's real estate broker, Eastside Lending and Rental Agency, which was acting as her agent.

Both were named in separate complaints by Mrs. Georgiana I. Norris, a black woman who said she was denied rental of a flat because of her race.

A third complaint against Mrs. Clark was filed by Eleanor Hoffman, a white woman who alleges Mrs. Clark is attempting to evict her because she gave a racially integrated party.

Swimming Class Registration Begins Today

Jo Maniaci, head lifeguard for the Gladstone beach, today announced that children may sign up for swimming lessons at the beach from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., beginning today through next Wednesday.

Classes will be offered for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, advanced swimmers, life saving, and the swim and stay fit program.

A one mile marker will be set up to enable members of the swim and stay fit program to complete their 50 mile accumulative swimming requirement for the summer.

Adult classes during the evening are being planned for those interested and the scheduled evening will be decided later according to the convenience of the members.

Persons from the Flat Rock and Rapid River area may sign up for classes at the beginning of their first lesson.

The opening day of the Gladstone beach will be June 29, according to Jo Maniaci.

Some Negroes Nearing Parity In Better Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro married men made substantial strides toward parity with whites in new blue collar jobs during the last decade, a special U.S. Census Bureau report discloses.

Negroes, who represent only 11 per cent of the population, got 28 per cent of the new craftsmen and operative openings that went to family men between 1960 and 1969, the report said.

During the same period, the bureau said in the unpublished report, the median income of the married Negro blue collar worker jumped 44 per cent while income for white married men in the same occupations rose 27 per cent.

The report dealt only with the earnings of black and white husbands and did not include the 30 per cent of the nation's 5 million Negro households headed by a woman.

Craftsmen and operatives include industrial workers as well as specialists such as carpenters and plumbers. Not included are clerical and sales workers, service employees and laborers.

Poverty expert San Levitan of George Washington University's Center for Manpower Policy Studies said the figures indicate a slow but sure breakdown in racial barriers.

"They are very real changes," the economist said. "They are not just isolated in any particular geographic area or in any specific industry."

The Census Bureau prepared the tabulation at the request and expense of Levitan, who is studying America's blue collar work force.

Jury Will Decide Fate Of Couple

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A penalty trial is under way for Chester A. Johnson and Terry Jean Phelps, convicted of first-degree murder in the robbery shooting of Dr. Glen Olsen, Oakland dentist.

The same Superior Court jury of eight men and four women which convicted them late Friday night must decide whether the sentences will be death in the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

Johnson, 28-year-old Negro, is under death sentence for the slaying in Hollywood of Loren Silliphant, 18, son of screen writer Sterling Silliphant.

Young Silliphant was shot Feb. 12, 1969, and Dr. Olsen was kidnapped and slain one week later in the Oakland hills.

Johnson and his white girl friend, Miss Phelps, 20, were arrested Feb. 24, 1969, in Dr. Olsen's car in Muskegon, Mich.

Miss Phelps told police where the dentist's body could be found, and a gun in the couple's possession was identified as the weapon which killed both Silliphant and Dr. Olsen.

Decorative Litter Barrels Placed On Special Meeting Gladstone Streets

Decorated litter barrels which have been placed in strategic locations in Gladstone have been painted by local youths under the direction of Mrs. George Maniaci, chairman.

The Delta County Highway Department donated 20 barrels to the cause, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Paint for the civic project was donated by Art Meyers, Tang's Color Headquarters and by Gamble's Store. Cardboard holders for paint were donated by the Dairy Flow and the Chamber of Commerce supplied the paint brushes and cash prizes.

Mike, Ann and Linda Schoenberger were awarded first prize for their painting job on a container; Bob, Pat and Tim Bishop, placed second; Chris Sepic and Susie Sullivan, third, and Lynn Johnson, fourth.

By HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

I'd like to share my idea for "dressing up" a birthday cake.

I am not very talented in the field of cake decorating but I think my cake really looked attractive and with very little effort.

What I did was, after I had finished icing the cake and while the icing was soft, take a nut pick and trace my child's name in the icing.

I then placed small gumdrops in the indentations that I had made with the pick.

I used the larger gumdrops around the edge of the cake.

I sure was proud of my cake and so was my little one.

V. W.

Dear Heloise:

When you want to thicken creamed or buttered vegetables here is a slick trick:

Take one stick of softened butter or margarine and one-half cup of flour.. mix well and put in a covered bowl and keep in the refrigerator.

When you want to thicken vegetables just add a lump of this mixture to the vegetables.

This will melt all through and will thicken with no lumps.

Mrs. G. O.

Dear Heloise:

I have always had trouble keeping track of calories because the paper with the calorie count is either in the other room or I am over at a friend's house and will forget by the time I return home.

Now I wear an old watch on a chain around my neck and reset the hands for my calorie count—60 calories to an hour, etc.

Your calorie counter is always with you and you will know right away exactly how many calories you have had, and how many you can have.

Weight Watcher

Dear Heloise:

As an army bride living on a budget I have to make do with what I have.

I needed some covers for my electric appliances but hated to buy them.

Instead I bought some unbleached muslin and made my own.

I decorated them with rickrack and drew designs on with crayons.

The crayon designs will stay on even after washing if you will iron the material on the wrong side right after you finish making the drawings.

Mrs. G. O.

Dear Heloise:

I have always had trouble keeping track of calories because the paper with the calorie count is either in the other room or I am over at a friend's house and will forget by the time I return home.

I then placed small gumdrops in the indentations that I had made with the pick.

I used the larger gumdrops around the edge of the cake.

I sure was proud of my cake and so was my little one.

Dear Heloise:

When you want to thicken creamed or buttered vegetables here is a slick trick:

Take one stick of softened butter or margarine and one-half cup of flour. mix well and put in a covered bowl and keep in the refrigerator.

When you want to thicken vegetables just add a lump of

Mrs. Lepisto To Attend School In California

ROCK—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lepisto, Michael, Elizabeth and Mary, are on their way to Los Angeles, Calif., where Mrs. Lepisto will attend the John Tracy Clinic 1970 summer session through July 24.

She received a special summer institute fellowship through the U.S. Office of Education, which is offered in conjunction with the University of Southern California School of Education. This six week, six hour graduate course is limited to trained persons with experience in the education of the deaf.

Mrs. Lepisto taught the deaf for six years in Flint and the past year she worked in the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District. She also serves as advisor and interpreter for the Michigan Association of the Deaf.

The Lepistos will follow the southern route and highway 66 to Los Angeles and stay with the Melvin Lutio family while Mrs. Lepisto attends school.

The rest of the family will enjoy a California vacation. On their return they will follow the northern route through Yellowstone National Park.

The Don Yeadon family of New Port Richie, Fla., are staying at the Lepisto home in Rock while the Lepistos are away.

THE ELMER LEPISTO FAMILY of Rock has left for Los Angeles, Calif., where Mrs. Lepisto will attend a special summer session at the John Tracy Clinic. While she attends the six week graduate course, the rest of the family will enjoy a California vacation.

As this close-up comparison photograph shows, steam can fray the ends of wool and some synthetic fibers used in today's carpets. Don't risk your carpet's beauty — ask for ServiceMaster Fiber-Fresh-15 Carpet Systems when you call for carpet cleaning!

Fiber-Fresh-15
Carpet Care Systems by ServiceMaster

Fiber-Fresh-15 is 15 ways better because it selects from 15 different soil extraction methods the best one for your carpet and soil condition.

Customized care for your carpet

- Exclusive Fiber-Fresh-15 treatment separates fibers for loose soil removal and restores pile to its original upright position.
- Next, the first soil extraction step lifts out loose, gritty dirt particles.
- In the second soil extraction step the exclusive Fiber-Fresh-15 treatment dissolves the filmy soil build-up on each fiber.
- A third soil extraction process removes the dissolved film-type soil.
- In all, there are 15 different methods of loosening and extracting soil the ServiceMaster specialist can choose from to clean your carpet the way it's meant to be cleaned.
- You pay only for the cleaning your carpet needs.

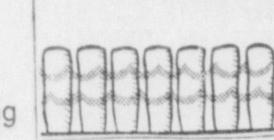

There is no one best way to clean all types of carpeting. That is why you need Fiber-Fresh-15 Carpet Systems. Carpet cleaning must be customized to fully protect your carpet and give it the thorough cleaning it needs for long-lasting beauty.

Fiber-Fresh-15 cleans your carpet with the tenderest of care—

without steam

without harmful
oversoaking

Fiber-Fresh-15 is safe... even for the most delicate orientals, the shaggiest shags, the plushiest plushes, the toughest tufts.

No harsh detergents or steam is used in Fiber-Fresh-15 Systems. There is no moisture penetration to the carpet backing to cause staining or discoloration.

NOTE: Fiber-Fresh-15 Carpet Systems do not require the operation of steam generating equipment in your home.

Delores Annear of 417 South 8th St. made off with the top special award in the women's division of the Green Bay Press-Gazette Individual Bowling Championship Tournament recently. Delores, who bowled in the Holiday Thursday night 9 p. m. bowling league, had her highest game ever, a 235 to win the top award in the tournament. With over 2,700 women entered, she also managed to finish in the top twenty with a 587 series in her first year of competition in the Classic.

Rick Magoun of Marquette, one of the younger swingers who may again challenge Ken Hruska for the Marquette Golf and Country Club championship later this year, captured top honors in the club's annual shortstop tournament last Sunday by gaining a two up decision over Loren Mustamasa. Hruska, the reigning club and U. P. titlist, fired a one-under-par 70 for medal honors.

Bob Dillard of Iron Mountain fired a hole-in-one recently at the Pine Grove Country Club. He aced the par 3, 170 yard, fourth hole using an eight iron and finished the nine holes with a 36 score. It was the second hole-in-one for Dillard, who fired an ace 10 years ago in New Mexico and it was the first ace of the season at the Iron Mountain course.

Services of Robert Pelkie as head basketball coach at Gwin High School were terminated by the Gwin Board of Education recently. Pelkie was asked to resign the post after members of the board received numerous complaints from township residents indicating they were not satisfied with the performance of the basketball team during the past two seasons. Pelkie was named head coach two years ago when Jerry Erickson relinquished the post.

Chet Finch, junior varsity basketball coach at Calumet High School during the past season, has been named head varsity coach at the school. Finch has had nine years of basketball varsity coaching at Greenville and Bad Axe, Michigan.

The Marquette Iron Rangers of the United States Hockey League have named their high scoring veteran center Jerry Sullivan to the post of general manager. Sullivan, who was born in Canada, is a graduate of Michigan Technological University where he was a first-team All-American under coach John MacInnes.

In speaking of hockey, the United States Hockey League has admitted two new teams to the circuit. Waterloo, Iowa and Port Arthur, Ontario will join Green Bay, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie and Rochester to round out the six-team league.

Tom Brayak, former Escanaba Eskymo athlete, was the recipient of the Dean Kerekes Memorial Award and the Weber Most Valuable Wrestler Award recently at the varsity awards banquet at Michigan Tech University. Brayak compiled a fantastic 16-0-1 dual meet record and was only the second wrestler in the history of the Huskies to post an unbeaten record.

Italy, Brazil Cup Favorites

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Much of the world and all of Brazil, West Germany, Uruguay and Italy will be looking hysterically toward Mexico today at the semifinals of the World Cup soccer championships.

A differing view came from 1969 open champion Orville Moody.

"I plan to get around in 67 at least once or twice," said the former Army sergeant who exploded into golf headlines with his title at Houston last year.

"It's my type of layout, fairly and fairly tough."

The scenic course, carved out of rolling Minnesota woodlands, offers a network of 10 long dog legs, narrow and treelined fairways and giant, rolling putting surfaces. There's plenty of water and sand.

Jack Nicklaus, a two-time Open champion, has said the course lacks definition because of the many blind landing areas on wood shots. Arnold Palmer was not impressed by the four par 5s, the longest which stretches 592 yards.

But Palmer said he likes the course because "the other holes are exciting."

While they wait for the mystery to be solved, host professional Don Waryan took great enjoyment in the pretournament guesswork.

Mystery Surrounds U.S. Open Tourney

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — Mystery, and perhaps guesswork, shrouding the Hazeltine National course, subsidies Thursday with the start of the first round in the 70th United States Open Golf Championship.

Is the par 72, 7,151-yard Hazeltine layout really a monster? Touring pro Dave Hill described the course after a practice round: "It looked like a man destroyed a beautiful farm."

A differing view came from 1969 open champion Orville Moody.

"I plan to get around in 67 at least once or twice," said the former Army sergeant who exploded into golf headlines with his title at Houston last year.

"It's my type of layout, fairly and fairly tough."

Mud Hens Beaten

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Happless Toledo has become the latest whipping boy for the Syracuse Chiefs, who continue to widen their lead in the International League.

In their seventh consecutive win, the Chiefs whitewashed the Mud Hens 3-0 and 2-0 Tuesday night to sweep both ends of a doubleheader and make it four in a row over Toledo in their current five-game series.

Syracuse infielder Len Boehmer walked in the first inning with the bases loaded and added a homer in the third to help the Chiefs' cause in the opener.

In the nightcap, a two out, two run homer by Bobby Mitchell in the ninth inning gave Syracuse its overtime victory.

Funeral Services Set For Bears' Back

CHICAGO (AP) — Funeral services for Brian Piccolo, 26, the Chicago Bears' running back who died of cancer early Friday, will be held Friday morning.

A Requiem Mass will be said in Christ The King Catholic Church and burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Visitation will be today and Thursday at the Michael Coletta Sons Funeral Home on the South Side.

Piccolo, who is survived by his widow, Joy, and three daughters, died in the Sloan-Kettering Institute of New York's Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

He had undergone two major operations for the removal of chest tumors since last November.

The former Wake Forest star who led the nation in ground gaining and scoring in 1964 and later was substitute and roommate of Gale Sayers was paid the highest tribute by Sayers recently.

Sayers was honored at a dinner in New York as pro football's Most Courageous Athlete for his comeback from knee surgery.

"You flatter me by giving me this award," said Sayers. "But I tell you here and now that I accept it for Brian Piccolo. Brian Piccolo is the man of courage who should receive the award. It is mine tonight. It is Brian Piccolo's tomorrow."

"I love Brian Piccolo and I'd like all of you to love him too."

Although Piccolo led the nation in rushing with 1,044 yards gained in 252 attempts in 1964 at Wake Forest, he was not drafted by the pros. However, the Bears signed him as a free agent.

Foster-Quarry In Showdown Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Fight fans will get a look at what could be in heavyweight champion Joe Frazier's future when Mac Foster meets Jerry Quarry in a scheduled 10-round fight at Madison Square Garden.

They also will get a glimpse into the nostalgic past as part of May 23, pitched a strong four-hitter Tuesday night as he and the Detroit Tigers took a rain-delayed 5-1 victory over the Oakland Athletics.

Quarry, the young veteran from Bellflower, Calif., should be the toughest test yet for the massive Foster, who is gunning for a shot at Frazier.

Foster has knocked out all 24 of his opponents since turning pro after six years in the Marine Corps, including two tours in Vietnam.

But before the two Californians battle it out—Foster is from Fresno—the crowd will get a chance to see Dempsey in action.

Films will be shown on giant screens in the Garden of Dempsey's fights with Jess Willard and Luis Firpo and his famous "long count" bout with Gene Tunney.

Scheduled to be on hand to help Dempsey celebrate will be Georges Carpenter, Jack Sharkey, Tunney and Frazier.

"I really wanted to shut them out," Kilkenney said to huddled reporters in the Detroit dressing room. "I really, really, really did."

"I didn't care if I gave up 50,000 hits, as long as I shut them out. I wanted to show people, including you guys, I could do it. I was as 'up' for this game as I've been any game in my life."

"I hated to make a prediction like that in spring training," Kilkenney said, "but I felt I could win 20 games. I knew I could if I got my regular number of starts."

"Who knows? Maybe in four days I'll be in the bullpen again."

Kilkenney had only pitched 37 innings in 11 games, six games in relief. His earned-run-average was 5.59.

"After we went to a four-man rotation he pitched well a couple games," Smith said. "But I took him out because he got in a rut."

"He's been having control problems," he added.

Tigers Score

The Amvets slow pitch team was looking over its shoulders Tuesday night for the upcoming showdown game with River Post tonight and forgot that Amvets came to play ball and fell victims to a stunning 4-3 upset defeat, which cost them first place in the standings.

Amvets jumped off to a early 3-0 lead in the first inning and were held practically hitless the rest of the game, as Amvets picked away at the lead and went ahead with the winning run in the sixth inning.

Pat Kinn homered in the first inning for Amvets and Bill Beveridge the first baseman for Amvets made a spectacular catch in the first inning that could have changed the complexion of the game.

The highlight of the game came in the last inning when Don Alimenti tried for a Texas Leaguer single, hitting to the opposite field but Amvets roving shortstop Jimmy Hughes made a surprising running catch that ended the game with the Amvets on top.

Jim Schwalbach paced Amvets at the plate with four hits in four trips to the plate while Skip Perryman took the mound verdict from Alimenti.

Kilkenny Proves Point; Tigers Whip Athletics

DETROIT (AP) — "I wanted to show Mayo I wasn't a dud and that I could do something right," explained a happy, sweat-lagged Mike Kilkenny.

"I tried my hardest ever," he added. "I always try hard but, I don't know, this game just meant more than any game I've pitched anywhere."

Kilkenny, the Canadian southpaw who hadn't started since May 23, pitched a strong four-hitter Tuesday night as he and the Detroit Tigers took a rain-delayed 5-1 victory over the Oakland Athletics.

They also will get a glimpse into the nostalgic past as part of Mayo's 30th run in the last 20 games. He also extended his hitting streak to 16 games.

A 51-minute rain delay began after 3 1/2 innings. Kilkenny gave up only a bunt single before the delay and three hits after.

"My arm isn't big enough to get tight," he smiled, referring to the layoff.

He was worried the game would be postponed and he wouldn't get victory.

"I came in here (dressing room) and cried for about 10 minutes," Kilkenny joked. "I had an ice cream bar and prayed we'd start again."

Northrup Homers

Jim Northrup made the score 3-0 by tagging A's reliever Marcel Lachemann for a towering solo home run in the sixth. The ball bounced on the roof of the third deck in right field but didn't quite have enough to go out of the park.

Simpson Quits Spartans; Joins Rockets, Haywood

DENVER (AP) — Ralph Simpson, who once overshadowed pro basketball superstar Spencer Haywood, has abandoned Michigan State to join his old high school teammate on the Denver Rockets for a near $1 million contract.

Simpson, who averaged 29 points a game as a sophomore at Michigan State last year, was signed — like Haywood — as a "hardship" case by the Rockets of the American Basketball Association.

Rookie Of Year

Haywood left the University of Detroit in August 1969 after his sophomore year, joined the Rockets and was named the league's rookie of the year and most valuable player during his first season.

"Haywood and Simpson are like brothers," said Rockets General Manager Donald W.

Ringsby. "And I understand they play fantastically well together."

Bruce Haywood, the ABA's leading scorer and rebounder last year, once played in Simpson's shadow. When Haywood was a senior and Simpson a junior at Pershing High School in Detroit, the 6-5 guard overshadowed Haywood in the final game, scoring 43 points to lead Pershing to the 1967 Michigan state championship.

Hardship Case

"We have signed Simpson as a hardship case," said Ringsby. "His father has had a heart attack and is out of work. There are eight brothers and sisters all under 16. Ralph's mother is on Aid to Dependent Children. You can see the family is in desperate condition."

The Rockets said Simpson contacted them because he wanted to play with Haywood. Two years ago, as a Michigan State freshman, Simpson led the nation's freshmen scorers with an average of 40.3 points a game. He was 10th nationally in scoring in the NCAA university division last year.

Ringsby declined to comment directly on a report that Simpson got a $1 million contract in the form of a $250,000 bonus, a $50,000 salary and $700,000 in benefits payable at age 40. He said parts of the report were right and parts were wrong, but declined to specify.

Salary Correct

Another source within the club said the $1 million figure was substantially correct, although perhaps "a little high." He also said the agreement was reached about three months ago, but the signing and announcement was delayed until the end of the school year.

Simpson's coach at Michigan State, Gus Ganakas, said he wished his former star well. "I'm sure Ralph thought it over carefully, but considering his financial situation, and the lucrative contract offer, he had no alternative but to accept."

He said he was not bitter. "What the pros ought to do is sign all the players they think they can use. I think college basketball can stand on its own merit. There simply aren't that many basketball players ready for the pros," Ganakas said.

Haywood also found pro basketball a lucrative field. When he left the University of Detroit after his sophomore year, he signed with the Rockets for an undisclosed amount. On March 25, most of the way through a brilliant rookie season, he signed a six-year agreement worth $1.9 million.

His presence paid off for the Rockets. He set ABA records with 2,519 points and 1,637 rebounds, while leading Denver to the ABA's Western Division title.

He was also described as a hardship case, prompted by his family's financial circumstances.

Tigers Recall Robertson From Mud Hens Club

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers Tuesday recalled pitcher Jerry Robertson from their Toledo farm club and sent back rookie pitcher Dennis Saunders.

Robertson, a righthander, was optioned to the International League club May 13 along with Tom Timmerman, who has since also rejoined the Tigers.

At Toledo Robertson pitched in seven games, starting six and finishing with a 3-2 record. He had a 3.6 earned-run-average in 42 innings, striking out 43 and walking 18.

Saunders, also a righthander, in eight relief appearances had a 1-1 record with a 3.21 ERA in 14 innings.

CZACG's Snare First Place

CZACG's snared the top position for the first time this season by one-half of a point over Eis Boxes in Men's Twilight League action Tuesday at the Escanaba Country Club.

Stanchina topped all scorers on the course with a 34, while Warren Stanchina came in with a 35-38. Jim Douglas' 37, John Kelly 37-40, Jerry Martin 38, Bob Heymen 39, Abe Milkovich 39, Con Pratt 39-39, Bob Olson 39, Dan Mertenson 40, Art Bowe 40 and Dave Erickson 40. Dave Friets played 27 holes Tuesday and came in with scores of 36-42-37.

Golf ball winners were Dave Wolfgang, Abe Milkovich, Jerry Butrym, Paul Manning, Dutch Peterson, Joe Hebert, Jerry Sundquist, Vial Smith, Earl Koch, Don Pearson, John Kallman and Dave Friets.

Golfers are reminded of the Pari-Mutuel scheduled for Saturday. Deadline for entry is Thursday at 6 p.m. and anyone interested in playing is asked to call 786-6564 or 466-7457.

Team standings: Big Stickers 31, 19th; Holers 27½, Has Leens 27, Fairway Kings 26½, Jerry's Jets 26, Mor-Strokes 25½, Pinkey's Putters 25, Boegey Men 24½, Divot Diggers 24, Smitty's Smackers 23½, W.R.'s 23, Pussyfoots 22½, Ding-A-Ling 22, Con's Clubbers 21, Barney's Beavers 20½, Chippers 20, Doug's Dubbers 18½, The Martians 17½ and Dave's Demons 17.

July 1, July 1, July 1, July 1. Nearly every day someone asks Detroit Tiger manager Mayo Smith about how anxiously he is awaiting July 1 — the date suspended pitcher Denny McLain returns to the team.

"July 1 isn't the second coming of Christ, you know," Smith blurted to California writer after the Tigers clipped the Oakland Athletics 5-1 Tuesday night.

"Sure, we'll be glad to have him back but I don't know about all these people who say he'll win 15 games."

Paper Mill rally for two runs in the sixth inning Tuesday night and held on for a 2-1 upset victory over second place Flat Rock in Escanaba Softball Action.

With Bill Smith of Flat Rock and Tod Butler of the Papermakers in a tight pitching duo, Flat Rock took a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Smith scored on a single by Jim Pinna.

In the sixth inning Mike LaFleur led off with a single and with two out, Mike Skorupski blasted a triple to center scoring LaFleur to tie the game. Rick Lancour followed with a key hit, a single, to score the winning run.

Butler in going the distances, gave up only two hits and fanned six while Smith took the defeat for Flat Rock.

The Local 632 Girls' softball team won its second straight game of the season Monday night when they defeated Bay de Noe 11-3.

Local 632 jumped off to a 5-3 lead in the first inning and added six more runs in the remaining innings to register the victory. Barb Kleiman was the winning pitcher with Betty Nelson taking the defeat. Peggy Benoit paced Local 632 with a home run.

Lombard's Bar ran over Jaeger Brothers in the other game of the week by the lopsided score of 34-1. Connie Verhamme picked up the victory with Debbie Vian pacing the attack with three home runs and Judy Sundberg and Denise Porath each adding solo homers.

Burger Chef outslugged Murphy's Bar in the final game 21-19. The Bobcats had been shut out in a 3-6 season. Dick Nichols' squeeze bunt tallied Doug Kasmier in the eighth inning and another run counted on an error.

Dodgers, Giants Snare Victories

By The Associated Press

Billy Grabarkewitz and Dick Dietz aren't making much headway with National League All-Star voters, but they've left a lasting impression on two more National League pitchers.

Grabarkewitz slammed a fourth inning homer off Pittsburgh's Bob Veale to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory over the Pirates and Dietz' three-run blast off Chicago's Bill Hands carried the San Francisco Giants past the Cubs 3-2 Tuesday night.

The Dodgers' clutch-hitting third baseman and the Giants' slugging catcher are both among the league's Top Ten batters, but their names don't appear on the All-Star ballots, which were made up before the start of the season and distributed recently to fans across the country.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets toppled Cincinnati 8-1; San Diego blanked St. Louis 4-0; Philadelphia nipped Houston 2-1 in 13 innings and Atlanta downed Montreal 7-5.

Grabarkewitz' sixth homer of the year, a two-out shot in the fourth inning, decided a pitching duel between Vale and winner Don Sutton, who stopped the Pirates on four hits and struck out nine.

Dietz connected in the second inning after a walk and an error by rookie shortstop Roger Metzger.

Edwards punched a bases-loaded single off Jim Bouton with two out in the 13th, giving Philadelphia the nod over the Astros.

The Braves built an early 7-1 lead, then hung on to end a three-game losing string, with Milt Pappas picking up the victory in relief of George Stone.

Yanks Creep Within 2 Of League Leaders

By The Associated Press

Roy White and Willie Horton, two of the American League's premier left fielders, are red-hot... and playing it cool.

They refuse to get excited as their flaming bats continue to make a race of what once looked like a Baltimore runaway in the AL East.

White rapped a single, two-run double and two-run homer as the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 6-2 Tuesday night, running their latest winning streak to six games and pulling within two games of the Orioles, who were rained out of their scheduled contest with Milwaukee.

2nd To Carew

"I don't get excited," said White, who has 11 hits in his last 14 at-bats and has raised his batting average to .357, second to Minnesota's Rod Carew at .367. "I know how easy it is to go bad. I'm just taking things in stride and I'm going to be humble."

11-strikeout pitching

Horton's the majors for good midway through the season. He's improved steadily ever since, hitting 17 home runs in 1968 and raising his average to .290 last year.

With the Yanks trailing 2-1 in the sixth inning against Tommy John Tuesday night, Horace Clarke doubled, went to third on Bolby's single and White doubled them both home, eventually scoring himself on a wild pitch. He homered in the eighth off Danny Murphy, his 10th of the season.

Stottlemyre Wins

Mel Stottlemyre, though touched for 11 hits, upped his record to 7-3 after an 0-3 start.

Leo Cardenas cracked four hits, pitcher Jim Perry three, George Mitterwald and Tony Oliva belted two-run homers and Cesar Tovar hit a two-run triple as the Twins defeated Washington and took a commanding 5-1-game lead over the Angels.

Rich Hand scattered eight hits in his first complete game and Ray Fesse and Roy Foster hit two-run homers in Cleveland's rout of California. The Angels lost for the sixth time in seven games.

The Indians jumped on Andy Messersmith for a run in the second inning and three in the third. Jim Spencer homered for the Angels.

Mike Andrews' grand slam homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the ninth and lifted the Red Sox past the Royals. Reggie Smith started home another run in the ninth as Boston took a 7-2 lead but the Royals battled back with three runs in their half before Smith caught Lou Piniella's drive against the left-center field fence with two runners aboard for the final out. Rico Petrocelli also homered for the winners.

Study Compensation For State Fishermen

LANSING (AP) — A governor's task force has scheduled three public hearings to develop recommendations for compensation for those hit by a ban on commercial and sports fishing because of mercury contamination in Michigan waters.

Lake Huron, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River all have been closed to fishing by executive orders from Gov. William Milliken issued in late April and May.

The orders later were eased a bit to allow sports fishermen to take a few species in Lake Erie and Lake Huron south of Port Sanilac.

Sports fishermen can catch fish but must throw them back in Lake St. Clair and the two rivers.

The ban on commercial fishing covered all the most valuable species, such as walleye and white bass. All catches are being inspected. Only a few minor species are legal.

The hearings are scheduled July 15, County Courthouse, Mount Clemens; July 21, City Building, Port Huron; July 28, County Courthouse, Monroe. All will start at 1:30 p.m.

Carl Johnson of Grand Rapids, chairman of the task force and former State Natural Resources Commission chairman, said individuals and representatives of the commercial interests hurt by the fishing limitations will be invited to testify.

"We want to determine the extent of the suffering," Johnson said.

Johnson estimated commercial fishermen will lose close to $100,000 because of the mercury-caused fishing cutback.

Losers in tourism, boat rentals and bait sales will add up to "a terrifically high figure," Johnson said.

Johnson said the task force is contacting federal officials on the possibility of compensation through federal programs. Other suggestions are finding money from state sources or obtaining it from firms that have been discharging mercury into the contaminated waters.

Other task force members are Robert Fraser, St. Clair Shores assistant city attorney; Fred Peterson, Monroe commercial fisherman; Sen. Garland Lane, D-Fairfax, and Rep. David Serotkin, R-Mount Clemens.

Minimum Wage Hike Bill Awaits Signing

LANSING (AP) — A 20-cent increase in Michigan's $1.25 hourly minimum wage is slated to go into effect July 1 for an estimated 200,000 persons clinging to the bottom of the state's 3.17-million-man work force.

The new $1.45-an-hour base wage mainly would affect students, waitresses, common laborers and some of a 30,000-man migrant work force, under a bill that has been sent to Gov. William G. Milliken for signing into law.

Majority Democrats in the House yielded Tuesday to demands from Senate majority Republicans for a six-months delay in a second, 15-cents-an-hour increase.

Democrats wanted to put the $1.60 rate into effect by the first of the year. Under the agreement, it now will be delayed until July 1, 1971.

Compromise on the minimum wage controversy signalled an approaching head to negotiations on several key issues, as leaders in both houses aim for an early July summer election recess.

Speedup in settlements off the floor and passage of bills on it is expected to bring action soon on both the $1.74 billion budget that Milliken proposed for the coming fiscal year and on the long-stalled, billion-dollar school aid bill.

Passed by the House at a record $1.22 billion, the school aid fund — containing a $2-million parochial section — was returned to the Senate on March 12 where it has lain dormant ever since.

The long period of inaction arose through disagreement over both the funding levels of the bill itself and a related tax bill.

The first official steps since early March were to be taken at a breakfast meeting this morning between members of a joint legislative conference on the matter. House members included Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit; George Montgomery, D-Detroit; Taxation Committee chairman; and Roy Spencer, R-Attica, coauthor with Ryan of many of the House increases in the bill.

Senate delegates were expected to include Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, Appropriations Committee chairman; Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, Education Committee chairman and Michael Novak, D-Detroit.

It was understood that an agreement between Ryan and Senate leaders to adopt a $65-million revenue increase paved the way for further action on the school aid budget. The funds would be raised by halving the property tax credit now allowed against state income taxes. Ryan and Spencer sought for a time to substitute an increase in the income tax itself.

Passage of Milliken's budget bill in the House moved fitfully Tuesday. Three budget bills totalling some $9.4 million were passed earlier in the day, virtually without change in the spending levels set by the Senate. Their funds were earmarked for various state agencies and construction projects at the state's 29 junior and community colleges.

One item that attracted some attention in preliminary debate was $15,000 to build a chain-link fence around State Police headquarters near the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing. Opponents charged State Police could defend themselves readily enough without being fenced in.

Passage of a $37.7 million capital outlay appropriation bill was delayed, however, by disagreement over several issues that had little or no bearing on the final cost of the bill.

The first mail-by-pail delivery on the Detroit River was made June 7, 1895, by a man in a rowboat who was towed into the path of an oncoming ship by a small powerboat, then left there until the delivery was completed. He had to use his oars to keep out of the way of the ship but still stay close enough to make the exchange. The powerboat then towed him back to shore.

"I don't envy that fellow in the rowboat, whoever he was," joked Capt. Bill Adamek, a Westcott skipper for 22 years.

He said heavy fog and winds which "stir up waves eight feet high" make deliveries on the river difficult. It's also a problem when two ships are coming in opposite directions at the same time. The mailboat must keep out of the way but still deliver the mail.

John Colligan, who is in charge of the river post office, recalled one time when a girl called and asked the return of a "Dear John" letter addressed to a Great Lakes seaman. The girl was told to come down and fill out a special form but she never showed up and the letter continued on its way.

Recalled were:

—3,868 trucks for replacement of the lower steering knuckle to brace support plate attaching bolts.

—21 trucks for inspection and addition, if needed, of a power booster mounting bolt.

Detroit River Mail-In-Pail Season Begins

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit River Post Office—with its own exclusive Zip Code 48222—begins its 75th year of mail-in-pail delivery to ocean-going and Great Lakes freighters today.

About 50 times a day, the mailboat J. J. Westcott II is guided from its dockside station on the American side of the Detroit River out over the choppy waters to a rendezvous with passing ships.

The mailboat is on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Detroit Postmaster Edward L. Baker said more than one million pieces of mail will be handled this season in some 14,000 deliveries. About 2,000 of these will go to foreign vessels.

When the Westcott comes alongside a freighter, a seaman aboard the ship lowers a pail with mail to be posted. When this is emptied, it is filled with letters, newspapers and packages destined for the ship's crew.

The first mail-by-pail delivery on the Detroit River was made June 7, 1895, by a man in a rowboat who was towed into the path of an oncoming ship by a small powerboat, then left there until the delivery was completed. He had to use his oars to keep out of the way of the ship but still stay close enough to make the exchange. The powerboat then towed him back to shore.

Recalled were:

- 3,866 trucks for replacement of the lower steering knuckle to brake support plate attaching bolts.
- 1,613 trucks for inspection and correction, if needed, of a possible lubrication problem in the lower left ball joint.
- 1,000 trucks for additional welds on the brake booster mounting bracket.
- 21 trucks for inspection and addition, if needed, of a power booster mounting bolt.
